WESTWARD HO!

WESTERN HIGH SCHOOL

*4600 Falls Road
Baltimore,
Maryland 21209
Volume No. 85*

For 144 years
Western has represented a tradition of excellence. So much over the years remains constant: a high standard for academics, a close
feeling of fellowship,
and a boundless flow
of enthusiasm.

While we share a great deal with our predecessors, we recognize that each new year brings change, so here we celebrate this *Year
In Our Lives.*

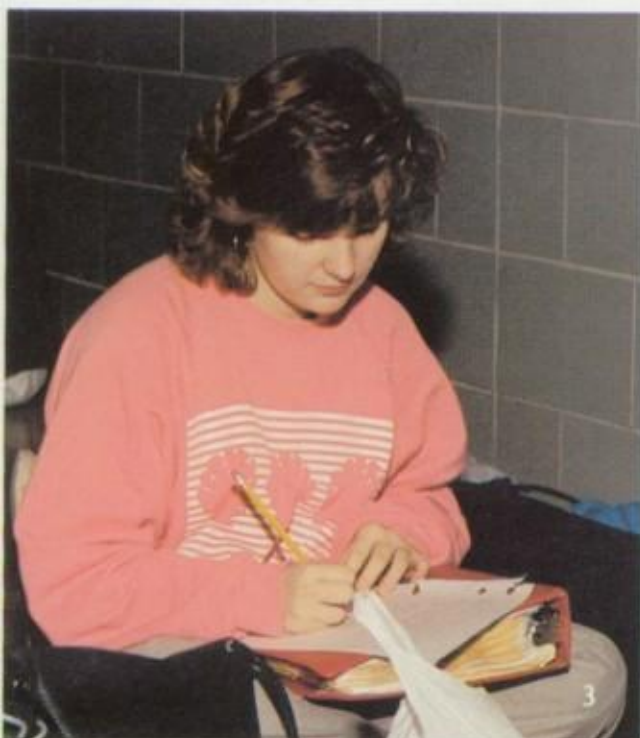

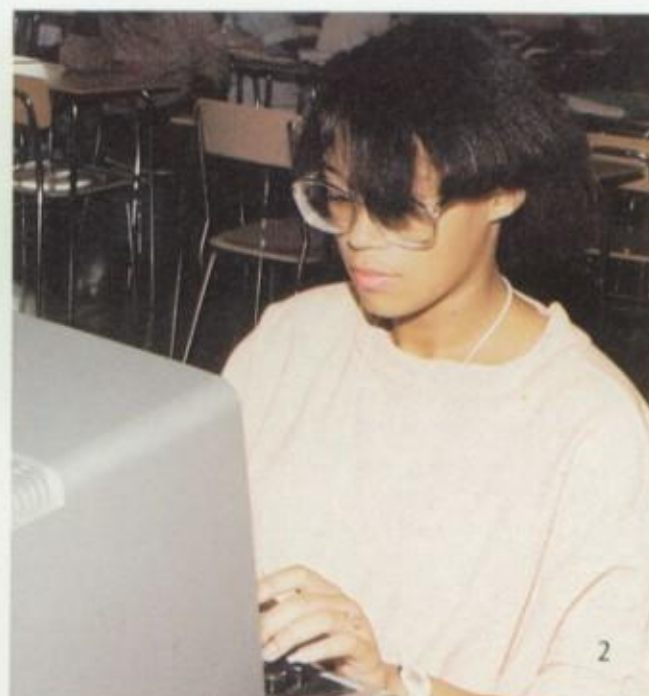

SCHOLARS . . .

FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

As young adults of the eighties, we relish our weekends, delight in our spare time and enjoy our hours after school. Yet, we realize that our primary focus must remain on academics. With this thought ever-present in our minds, we spend countless hours researching in the library, comparing notes in homeroom, even cramming for exams on the stairways. We know we have to do our best to make this one of the best years in our lives.

1) Possible CPA's struggle through Ms. Slaughter's accounting class. 2) A student of the eighties, Tamara Gillis illustrates her ability with computers. 3) Scholars like Heather Comstock study diligently, even during lunch break. 4) As a peer counselor, Julie Gray rushes to mail college transcripts. 5) Our students work successfully in all areas of a Western education. 6) Freshmen, too, soon excel in the classroom activities. 7) At the guidance bulletin board, Melvina Bryant and Cathy Kearise post announcements of college visits.

FASHION . . .

FOR ALL SEASONS

At Western we have as many different styles as we have personalities. Just as Western houses girls ranging from shy to boisterous, fashions vary from prep to punk. We take pride in our appearance which after all serves as an expression of ourselves. And certainly fashion changes mark another unique quality of this year in our lives.

1) Jeans and streaked hair remain popular this year. 2) Casual elegance best describes Tonya Williams' wardrobe. 3) On senior day, students like Jocelyn DeVance sport white dresses, shakers, and smiles. 4) From head to toe, Alysia Beads "dresses for success." 5) Hoop earrings and the color black dominate Western fashion. 6) Swatches and other watches complement our outfits.

SPIRIT . . .

FOR OURSELVES AND OUR SCHOOL

As Westernites, we come from all over the city. We come from different families, different backgrounds, different lives. We revel in this diversity. At the same time, we delight in all we share. Surely one quality we Westernites share is an almost boundless amount of spirit. From the varied voices singing "Dear Western", to individual students cheering on class days, to loyal spectators urging on student athletes, we demonstrate our endless enthusiasm.

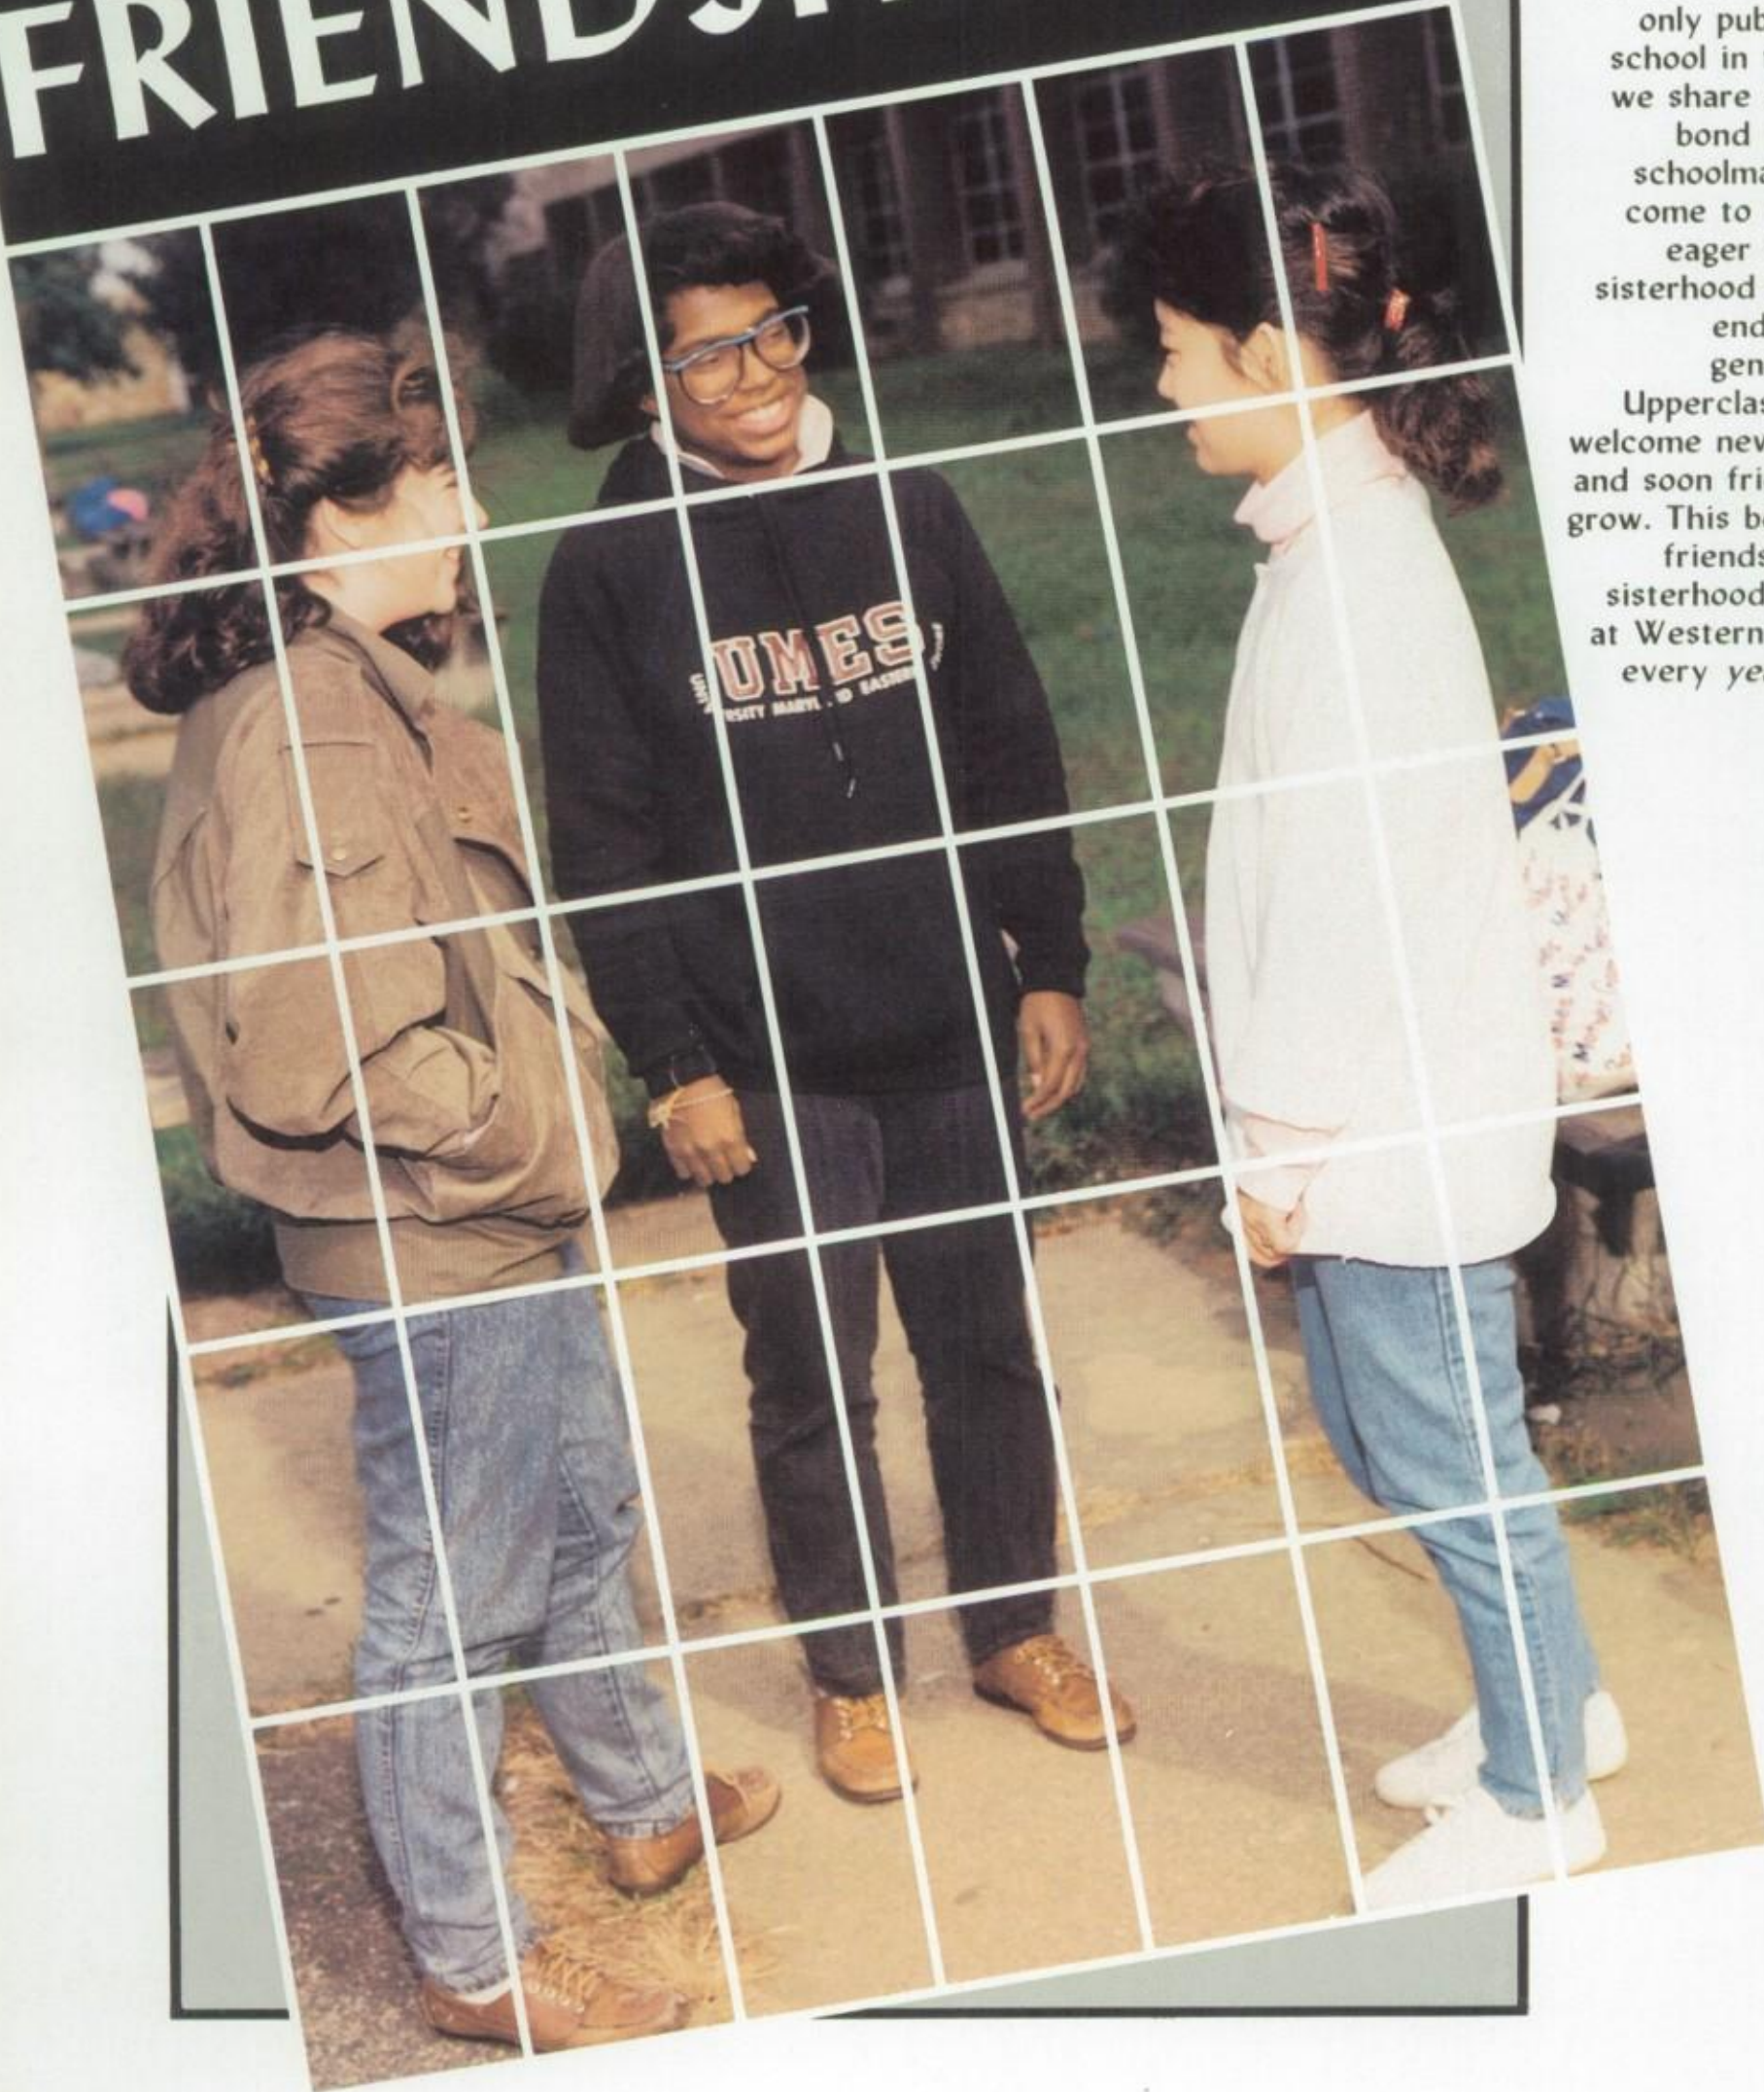

1) Senior Day decorations begin in the hallways and carry through to the parking lots. 2) The pom-pom girls, including Racquel Williams, add style to our abundance of spirit. 3) Wearing our proud colors of red and black, this band member displays her spirit. 4) After a month, freshmen, too, soon get the Western spirit. 5) Western possesses a faculty both spirited and strong as Mr. Grant, Mrs. Wighton, Mr. Cohen, and Mr. Kessler forcefully demonstrate. 6) Seniors M. Brown, K. Matfield, and C. Haysbert prove powerful opponents for the faculty.

FRIENDSHIP . . .

FOR NOW AND FOREVER

As members of the only public girl's school in the city, we share a unique bond with our schoolmates. We come to Western eager to join a sisterhood that has endured for generations.

Upperclasswomen welcome newcomers, and soon friendships grow. This bond, this friendship, this sisterhood created at Western endures every year of our lives.

6

1) Girls gather in the quad for friendship and gossip. 2) On Senior Day, friends, like Rene White and Mechelle Redmond, share a hug. 3) Anna Howard and Erika Frazier share togetherness even in fashion. 4) Friends A. Lucas, L. Myers, and K. McQuerrey discuss their plans for the weekend. 5) While they live oceans apart, exchange students Kjersti Olsen and Marcella Baptista become close friends. 6) Erica Kuhl, Bryna Finkelstein, and Melanie Townsend cram for a test.

SEPTEMBER . . .

A TIME FOR STARTING FRESH

September brings new beginnings. It marks a new season, and for students everywhere, a new school year. The first warm days witness friends united after the summer, long lines outside the guidance office, and anxious faces of newcomers. Soon we settle in and begin to enjoy another Year In Our Lives at Western High.

1) Decorative showcases welcome students back to school. 2) The warmth of a September day lures dedicated students out to the quad to study. 3) The first days of school bring a full house to the cafeteria. 4) English I students listen attentively despite a desire to be enjoying the remaining days of summer. 5) Westernites utilize their free time to get a head start on their demanding studies. 6) 4600 Falls Road marks the spot of our "home" for four years.

OCTOBER . . .

A TIME FOR SETTLING IN

As October comes to Western, multicolored leaves mark the season, and armloads of books mark our routine. We have established study patterns, made new friends, and begun the year in earnest. Amidst our studies, we find time to enjoy such October delights as Halloween and the pep rally.

1) The annual S.G.A. Halloween costume contest brought a variety of "characters" to the senior lounge to compete for prizes. 2) Four spirited westernites shout the infamous "Peanut Butter And Jelly" cheer at the Spirit Week pep rally. 3) A warm Indian Summer day brings juniors out to the quad. 4) Marki Hinton, accompanied by Garfield, listens intently to our guest speaker on Senior Day. 5) By October, we all recognize the neccessity of scheduling study time even if it means working in the cafeteria corridor during lunch.

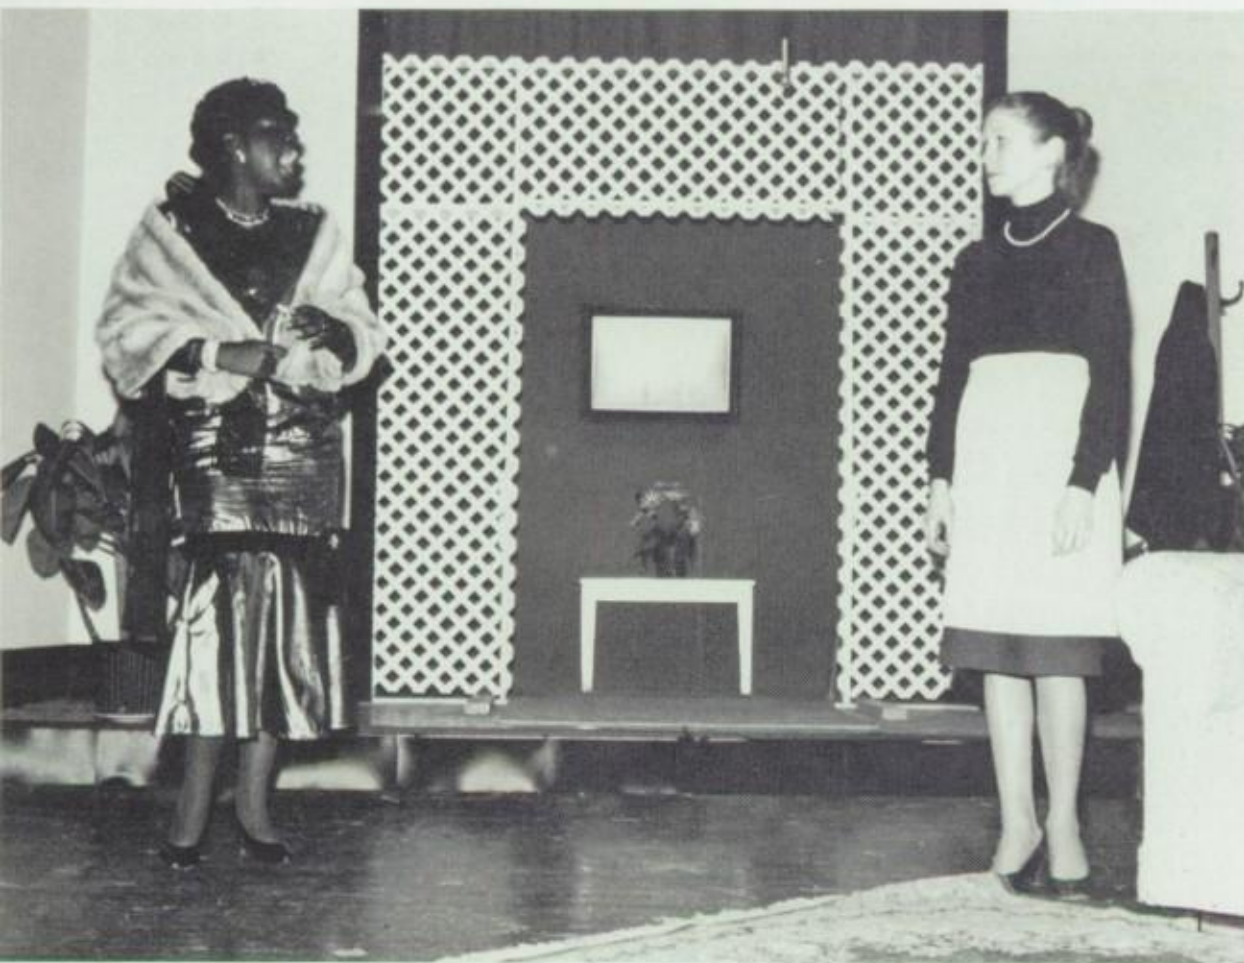

NOVEMBER . . .

A TIME FOR GIVING THANKS

For much of the world,
November signals
Thanksgiving, and this holds true for our Western world, as well. We take time to give and to give thanks.

Additionally, for Westernites, November brings first-quarter report cards, the National College
Fair, and the fall play, . . .
And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little. Like most of our school months, November brims full of events and enthusiasm.

1) Sherri Chandler and Sara Moriarty portray characters with quite different lifestyles in . . . And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little. 2) Imagine our shock as November brought a six to eight inch snowfall. 3) As a neurotic Reardon, Molly Stone shares her problems with her sister played by Sara Moriarty. 4) Modelling college catalogues and confident smiles, seniors D. Miller, T. Brown, E. Fife, and J. Burnside anticipate what the future will hold.

DECEMBER . . .

A Time For Celebrating Holidays

Yet another month
flies by, and we find ourselves in

December, a month
filled with excitement
as the whole school
joins together to help those less fortunate.

The halls stay filled with gaiety as students contribute to the mitten tree and spend hours

decorating homeroom
doors and class
Christmas trees. The month ends with the holiday concert and the Christmas dance.

Finally, our long-awaited vacation
arrives; and at 3:00 on December 22, we race out of Western's doors eager to begin our holiday at home.

SEASON'S GREETINGS FROM F.B.L.A.

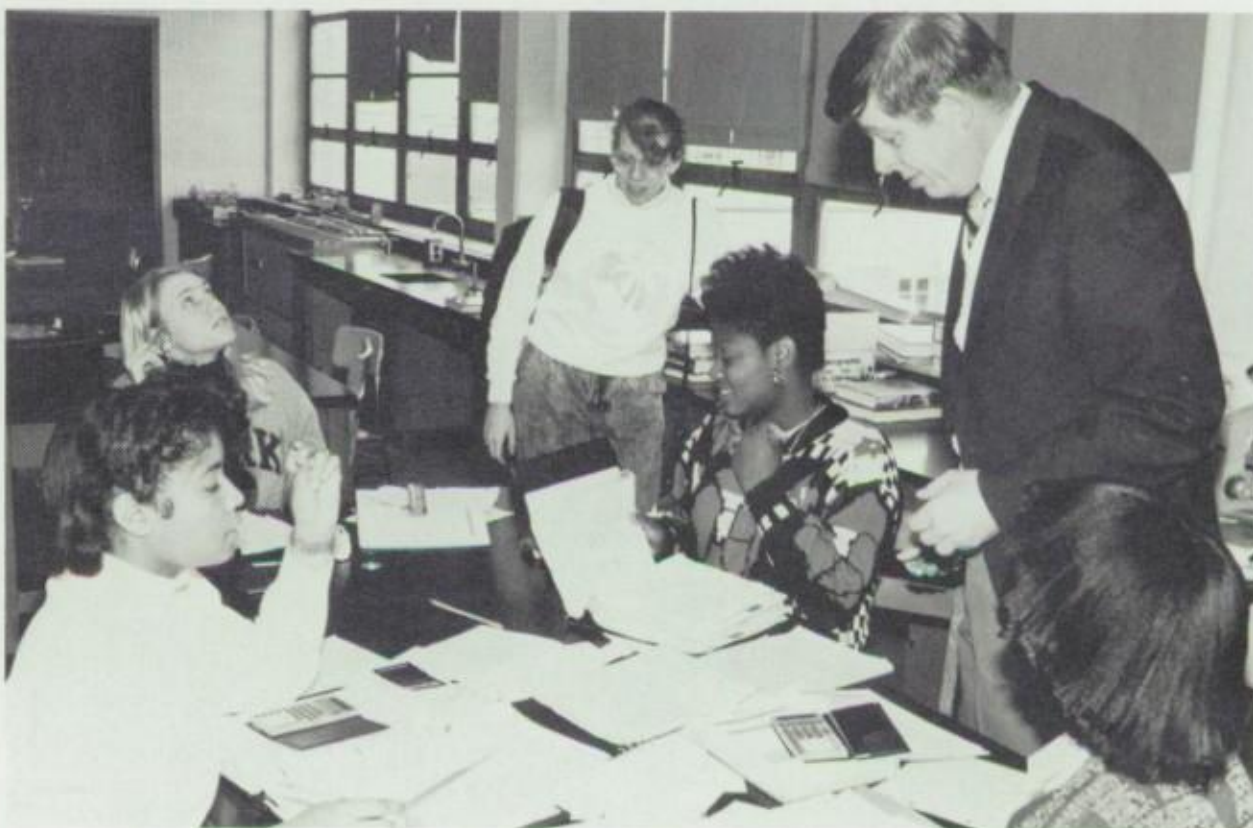

1) Colorfully decorated, if not always symmetrical, Christmas trees decked the halls for the holiday season. 2) As one of the talented soloists at our annual Christmas Concert, Hallie Brown shared her holiday spirit. 3) Heidi Short enticed the audience to join along in her jazzy rendition of "Silver Bells". 4) As usual, Western's clubs extended greetings of the season to all students and faculty. 5) As a gift for us all, Mr. Mack's art classes renovated this "little girls' room".

A Time For Studying Hard

January brings brainstorms and snow storms. We can always count on final exams to make our
brains work overtime,
and we can usually count on the weatherman to put some of our "best
made plans" on hold.
This January was no
exception.

JANUARY . . .

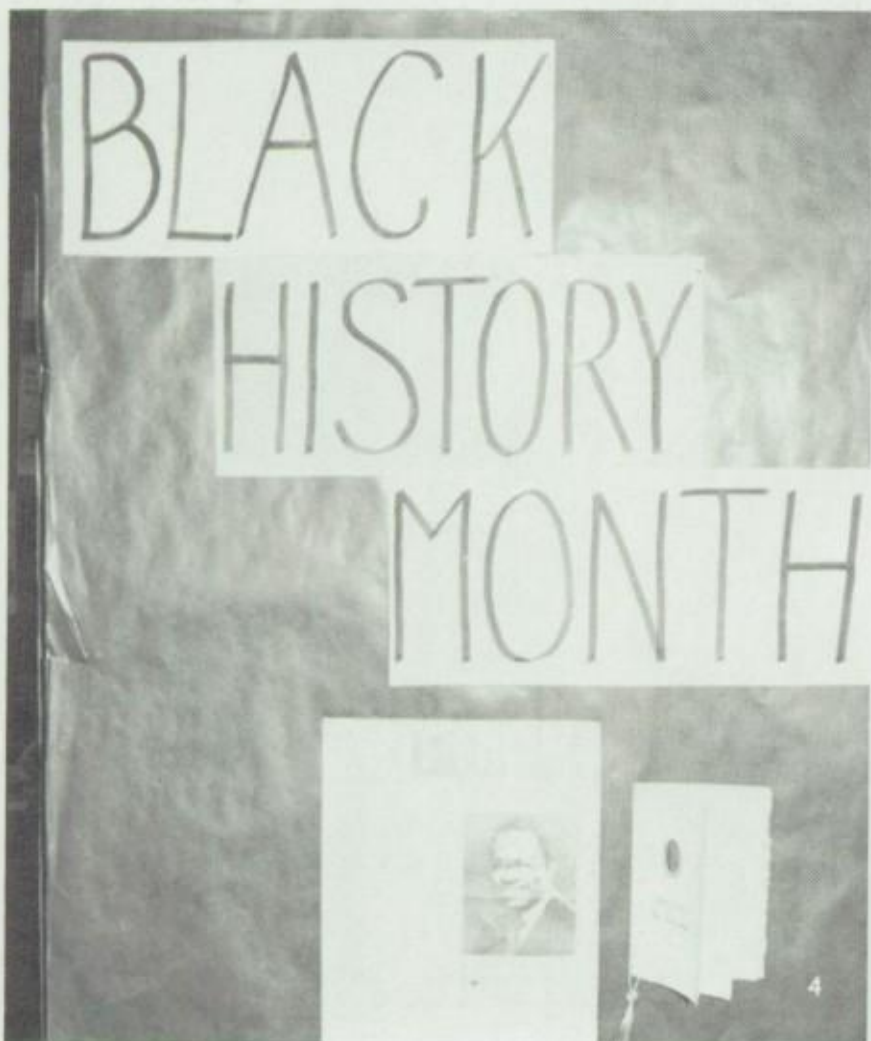

1) Fashionettes Carla Burke and Alysia Beades design a poster featuring the fashion show theme "Experiences Above and Beyond the Imagination" 2) The first major snowfall of the new year enticed Westernites to frolic in the winter wonderland. 3) Mr. Nadrowski's physics class works diligently to prepare for upcoming exams. 4) After long hours of late night studying for exams, Kimberly Harris catches a few winks before homeroom. 5) Despite our snow dances, city schools remained open on this snowy January day.

FEBRUARY . . .

A Time For Romancing

February brings great excitement for almost every Westernite. The S.G.A.-sponsored Sweetheart Dance remains the social event of the month as Westernites frantically search for dates and dresses. For another calendar event, Valentine's Day, the FBLA delivered balloons and flowers to faculty and students. Along with Valentine's Day, another important day came with the mock interviews with every freshman and senior involved. Obviously, February brought many red-letter days for Westernites.

1) Westernites gladly miss sixth and seventh periods on February 12, 1988 to decorate Western's Ballroom for the annual Sweetheart Dance. 2) At the Sweetheart Dance, freshman Dorothy Quamina and her date share a quiet moment. 3) The S.G.A. extends a "heart-warming" invitation to all members of the Western family to attend the social event of the month. 4) In celebration of Black History Month, Western's halls displayed various billboards, including this one featuring our Mayor Kurt Schmoke. 5) Shannon Young and her escort take a break from the crowded dance floor.

MARCH . . .

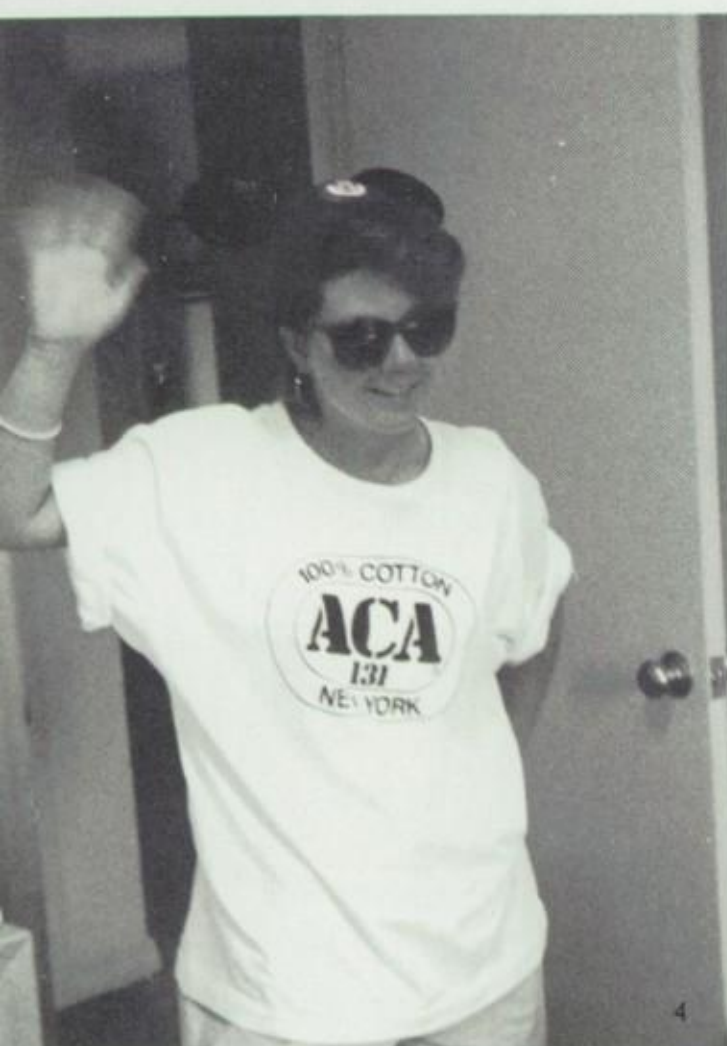

A TIME FOR BREAKING AWAY

Every Westernite eagerly awaits the month of March.

Along with the end of the third quarter, this month signals the first days of spring, Sophomore Day, and a ten day vacation. On March 18, 1988, sophomores, elegantly dressed in blue and gold and accompanied by the class mascot Donald Duck, showed true class spirit in an excellent Sophomore Day assembly. Then from March 25th until April 5th, all students found time for fun and relaxation.

DONALD

1) The Class of '90 demonstrated pride and spirit at the Sophomore Day Assembly. 2) Seniors Sarah Sommer and Katrina Mattfield present their little sisters with a tangible and edible token of friendship. 3) "Motown Returns to Western" on March 18, 1988, as a talented sophomore imitates James Brown. 4) Senior Melissa Singer donned Mickey Mouse ears to signal her enjoyment of her Florida vacation. 5) Other students, like seniors Tammy Brown and Donnetta Miller, spent part of spring break in New York City.

APRIL ♦ ♦ ♦

A TIME FOR PLAYING AROUND

Along with April shower, multicolored tulips, and blooming dogwoods, the month brings to Western events both anticipated and dreaded. These events include, for seniors, the Parent-daughter Tea, term paper deadlines, and college acceptances. Important events that concern everyone include the spring musical Once Upon A Mattress, and third quarter report cards. For most of us, even the occasions we initially dreaded turned out well.

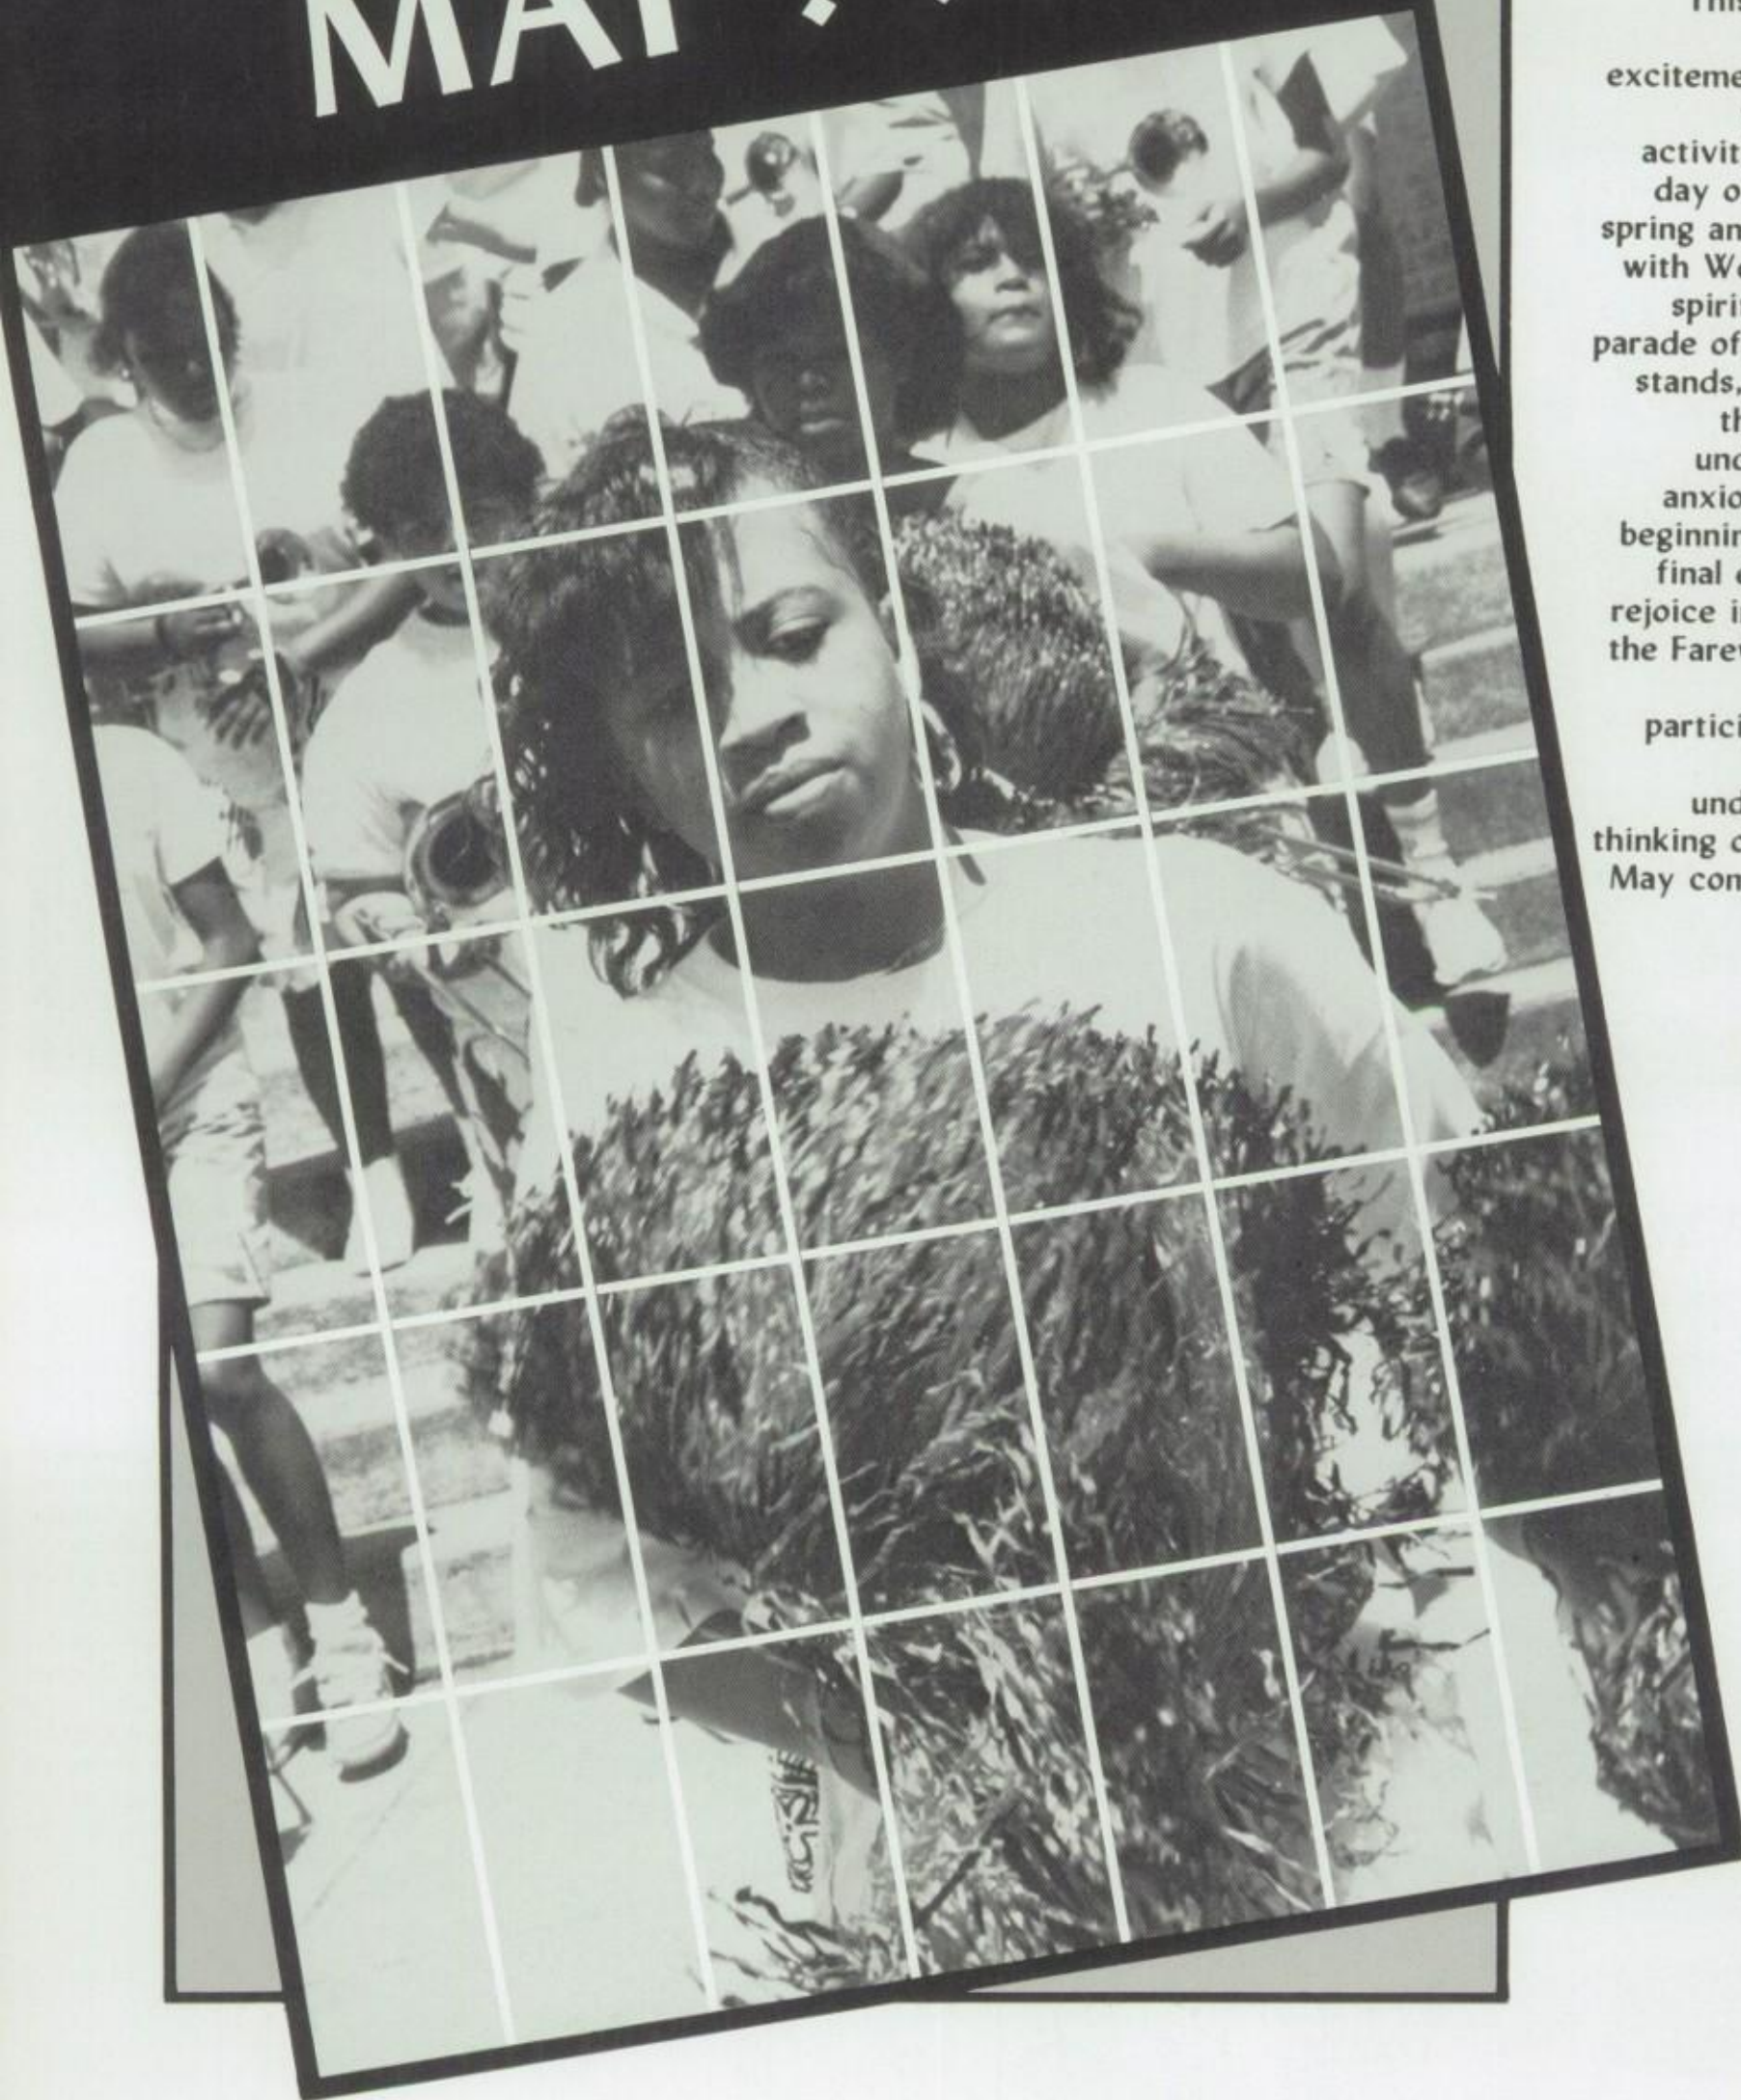

1. The ladies-in-waiting admire the beautiful princess to-be.
2. Hallie Brown, as Princess Winnifred, tries to win the Prince's heart by displaying her musical ability.
3. It seems appropriate that Jessica La Costa, accompanied by Cherise Bullock, selected "Mama" for her vocal selection at the tea.
4. Parents and daughters gather around the refreshment tables at the Seniors' Parent-daughter Tea.

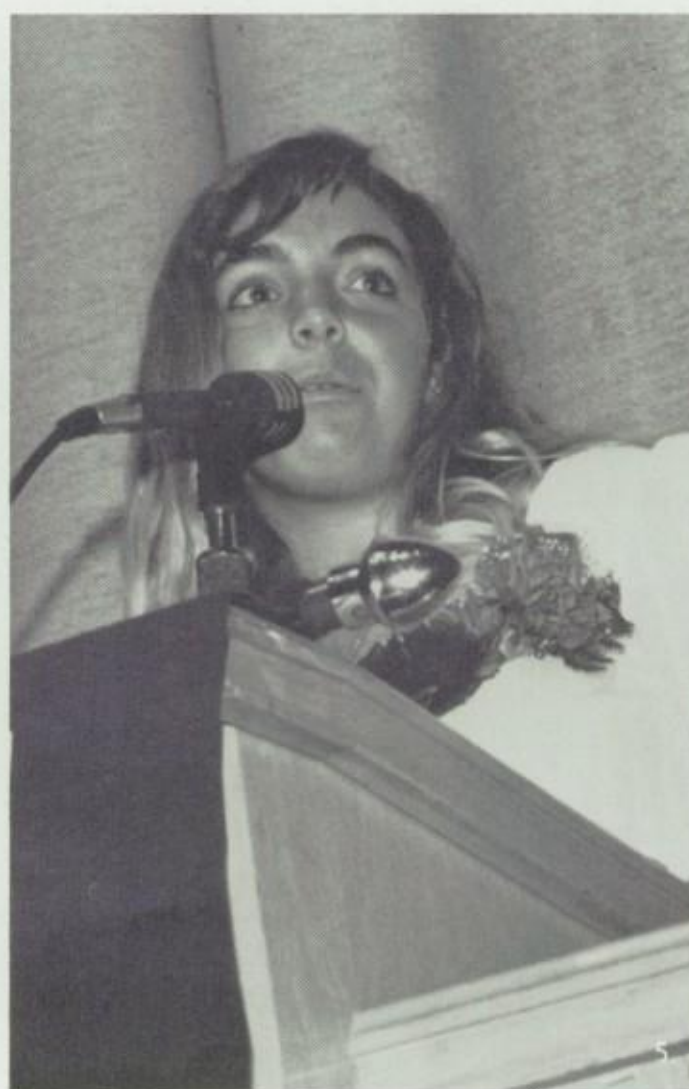

MAY ♦ ♦ ♦

A TIME FOR REVELLING.

This month brings vivacity and excitement to Western with numerous activities. We take a day off to celebrate spring and school spirit with Western's annual spirit fair, Revel. A parade of banners, food stands, and music fill the quad. While underclasswomen anxiously await the beginning of June and final exams, seniors rejoice in memories at the Farewell Assembly.

With seniors participating in final activities and underclasswomen thinking of final exams, May comes to a close.

1) Western ladies relax in the sunshine at Revel. 2) Shawan White, the historian of the senior class, walks proudly down the aisle at the Senior Farewell assembly. 3) Westernites gather on the stage to dance to the music provided by Davis D.J.'s. 4) Better known to seniors as "Papa Grant", senior class administrator Mr. Warren Grant gratefully accepts his new "throne" as a gift from the senior class. 5) Augustina Alvarez, a foreign exchange student from Argentina, expresses thanks and love as she bids farewell to the Western family.

JUNE . . .

A TIME FOR BIDDING FAREWELL

On our school calendars, June indicates both endings and beginnings. For the Class of '88, June 4 brought the reward for four years of hard work: graduation. And, of course, seniors anticipate with both eagerness and some anxiety the beginning of the years after Western. For underclasswomen, June signalled exams and the end of another school year and the beginning of the glorious summer vacation.

3

4

6

1. Seniors select long-stemmed red roses to carry at graduation. 2. Lab assistant, Mrs. Arenson paces the seniors for their last march. 3. A wildly enthusiastic audience applauds the performers at Freshmen Day. 4. Cheryl Williams' selection "You've Got It All" seemed an appropriate choice for the Class of '91. 5. Melissa Meadows' Janet Jackson routine appeals to the audience. 6. With a series of vivid adjectives, Char Henry describes the Class of '91.

ADMINISTRATION

Mrs. Sandra Wighton - Principal

Dear Class of 1988,

As graduates of Western, you have now passed a crucial milestone in your lives. The education and the experiences you shared here will serve you well as you move to your next plateau. Indeed, you will discover that the rich heritage that is Western High School is priceless; this fact will become even more dear to you as time goes by.

You, the Class of '88, have now added your contribution, your legacy to the school's heritage, and it is a rich contribution. Your leadership this year was clear and strong. Watching you develop into confident, poised, "dynamite" young women over these past four years has been a delight for me. You are ready for the world beyond Western, and I'm sure you will be able to handle anything that comes your way.

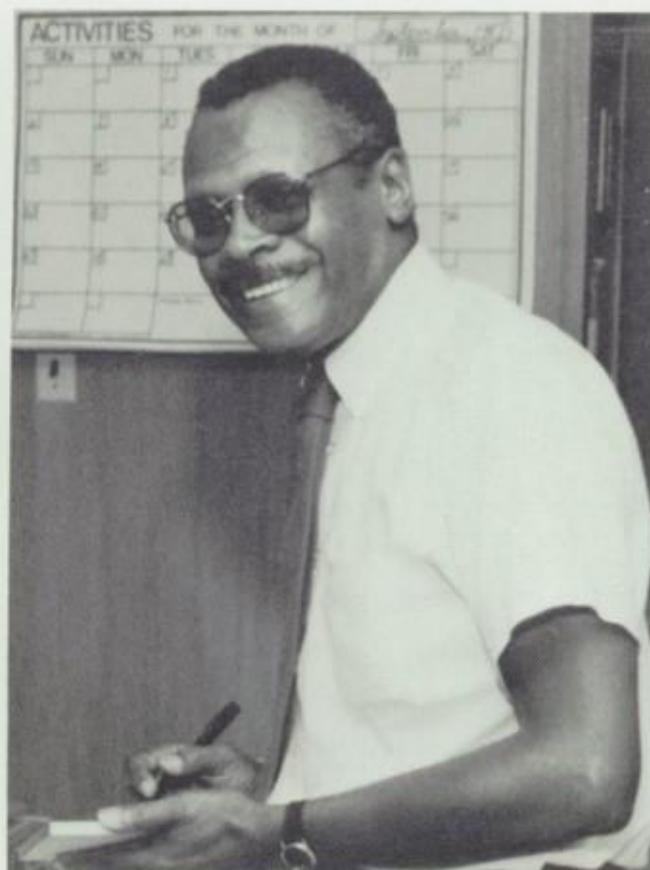

I look forward to hearing great things about the class that is "destined to be great." I'll miss you; God bless you.

Best wishes,

IF MONEY WERE NO OBJECT:

We all recognize that teaching is a highly profitable career. And certainly all of our teachers have the funds to purchase anything their little hearts desire. With this thought in mind, the Westward Ho! staff polled our faculty friends to ask: If money were no object, what would you buy first? We received some surprising answers. See if you can match these teachers and their responses.

CLASS MASCOT

Like many others before us, when we entered the doors of Western High we soon discovered that we had joined an establishment laden with tradition. And according to tradition, one of our tasks was to choose a mascot- a formidable task indeed. For our selection would symbolize us, represent us, and inspire us for four years. Suggestions poured forth, but one choice emerged from the crowd- the ever popular, much loved, always admired Garfield. Like our class, this "fat cat" is

JUNIOR DAY

Friday, October 24, 1986, the last day of the school week, brought the most exciting part of our Junior Week. We spent the morning running around trying to fix our corsages on our dresses of gold and black. Soon we heard the orchestra play the processional; and as proud juniors, we walked through the auditorium side doors. Our program contained many important events, including the lovely voices of Jessica Lacosta and Cherise Bullock and the stirring address by our guest speaker, Dr. Eloise Bridges. Next we presented our mascot, Garfield, to the other students. Proudly, we said our class pledge and sang our class song. After the program, we reported to our classes even though most of us remained too excited to concentrate on work.

JUNIOR RING DANCE

October 25th, 1987, at Western's High School ballroom marked the time and place of the Class of 1988's first official dance as upperclasswomen. Anxious juniors arrived at the doors to be greeted with warm smiles and memorabilia from our little sisters, the Class of 1990. Decorated in an array of royal blue and white, the ballroom definitely set the scene for a first class affair. Throughout the night, the Class of 1988 waited in anticipation for the sound of the theme song "Kisses in the Moonlight." Finally the highpoint of the evening arrived- the 88th turn of the ring and a kiss under the arches from our dates. A final dance or two, and a goodbye from friends, ended a long awaited evening with a sense of achievement and satisfaction.

JUNIOR PROM

On May 2, 1987, the Class of 1988 entered through the doors of the elegantly decorated Western ballroom for the Junior Prom. We came magnificently dressed with our handsome dates by our side ready for an evening of certain enjoyment. Most couples went to the extremely long photograph line, while other couples went straight to the dance floor to enjoy the music of Incognito. The theme of the evening, "On The Wings of Love", seemed appropriate as couples took pleasure in the company/as well as the music. The evening ended at midnight, and although it seemed short, the memory will always remain with us.

CLASS PLEDGE

We the Class of '88
 Who are surely destined to be great,
 Uphold our colors of gold and black,
 Moving forward, not looking back.
 We shall respect and honor Western High
 For teaching us success is nigh.
 The knowledge we gain here will take us far.
 Exhibiting its perfection wherever we are.
 The journey to reach our goal is long,
 But Western has taught us to be strong.
 We'll love and miss our teachers and peers,
 Never will we forget these tender years.
 Thus, we have a reason to celebrate . . .
 For we are the Class of 88.

BIG SISTER/LITTLE SISTER

For many years, the tradition of sisterhood has prevailed at Western. We display our sisterhood in many ways, including the Big Sister/Little Sister program. When we entered the halls of Western for the first time as timid freshmen, the juniors, who seemed so knowledgeable and so sophisticated, greeted us and helped us get acquainted with our new school. Then two years flew by; we became juniors with our chance to guide the incoming freshmen. We found valuable friends in our little sisters and delighted in showing them "the ropes". Over the years our sisterhood has flourished, and we know that when we have to leave Western, we will take with us fond memories of a sisterhood shared.

SENIOR DAY

The Class of '88 waited three years for October 2, 1987, our Senior Day. After we received our flowers, we lined up to walk from the back of the auditorium, made splendid with our black and gold class colors. As the program officially began, we proudly presented our banner, a symbol of our senior status, to Mrs. Wighton. Then our guest speaker Miss Melanie Shaw, an alumnae of Western, talked of her own high school experiences. Other highlights of the occasion included the appearance of our mascot, the vocal selection by Stephanie Ball, and the speeches by our class officers. All too soon, our long-awaited day had come and gone, but surely its memory will remain with all seniors.

SENIOR STRENGTH

The seniors possess an unbelievable amount of strength. Seniors must be strong in academics. But we also possess another strength, our loyalty to the class. In the annual Spirit Week tug-of-war, not only did the seniors beat the juniors, but we also beat the sophomores. Although the tug-of-war demanded much more physical strength than we thought we had, our loyalty to the senior class gave us the needed determination. Finally, we faced the faculty. With red blistering hands, we pulled for what seemed like an eternity. Needless to say, the faculty finally won, but they suffered just as much as the seniors, for we made them work for their victory. Even though the seniors did not win, we still feel victorious in that our loyalty to the class and to each other provided us with the strength to be "good sports".

CLASS SONG

Western believes that we are the future
they taught us well, so we could lead the way
Show the world the beauty Western's given us
She gave us a sense of pride to make life easier
Here the teachers' laughter to remind us how
We used to be.

Everyone is reaching for her own star
We will surely go our separate ways
Garfield's love will bind us close together
His love a shining beacon in the dark,
For all of us to see
We decided long ago never to walk in Anyone's shadow
We won't fail, we will succeed
At least we live as we believe
No matter what they take from us
They can't take away our memories
Because the greatest class of all is the Class of '88

WHEN I LEAVE WESTERN, PEOPLE WILL REMEMBER ME FOR . . .

We like to think that in our four years at Western, we made a lasting impression. Whether remembered for some facet of our personality, or for the way we dressed, or for our sense of humor, we want most to just be remembered. We think others may recall:

POST GRAD PLANS

As we all know, the Class of '88 is an asset to Western. We try constantly to out-do ourselves. After taking a poll, we have decided that we will be busy after graduation. From doctors to brokers, housewives to clergy, the seniors will enter every field known to us. Members of the Class of '88 work hard in school, and we expect to continue that tradition after graduation. We plan to be busy doing these things:

- ... "Having success in my business career."
- ... "I plan to be working, but I'm not sure what field of work I'll be in."
- ... "Married and working as a child psychologist."
- ... "I plan to be a very successful accountant."

SENIOR WEEK

September 28 marked the beginning of Senior Week. Our class joined together and proudly sported our sweat-shirts on Monday to let the school know that "We are destined to be great . . . we are the class of 88." Tuesday brought 50's Day, and we all enjoyed a day in the past. On Wednesday we got our last taste of summer, for it was Jams, Shorts, and Shades Day. Thursday, Clone Day, homerooms dressed alike in the same color or fashion. Finally, October 2, seniors, in a bevy of white, walked down the auditorium aisles. Our day had come, and it was well worth the wait.

SENIOR FAVORITES

Talk of television shows, movies, and cars fills the halls of Western. We seniors choose the classiest and best of everything, and we enjoy the ultimate driving machines, and the box-offices smashes.

Movie: Fatal Attraction

Car: BMW

Song: "Silent Mourning"

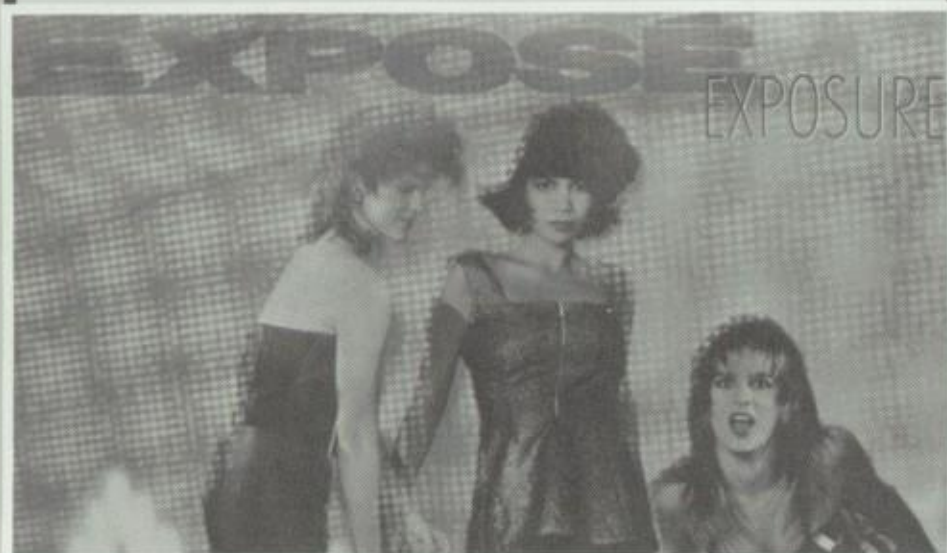

Book: A Separate Peace

Hangout: Inner Harbor

Food: Pizza

TV Show: The Cosby Show

SOPHOMORE DAY

During the week of April 7, 1986, our class celebrated Sophomore Week. Many events happened during this week. Some of these events included voting on t-shirt designs, and electing new class officers. The finale to our first week of class activities was Sophomore Day. Elegantly dressed in black and gold, we eagerly waited to be recognized as the Class of 1988. Some members of our class exhibited various talents. Shawan White, Wakisha Montgomery, and Jesi LaCosta danced; Toni Cole rapped; and Tamara Lyles played the piano. As sophomores, we felt proud as we slowly moved to the top.

TREASURED MEMORIES

Many significant events occur during high school years. The memory of some of them will stay with us forever. Some of the experiences have been embarrassing, some sad, and some funny. For instance, these girls will always remember:

"My most embarrassing moment was when I sat in the senior lounge on my third day of school, until someone yelled, "seniors only" at me."

Barbara Richardson

"I sat in the wrong sociology class for a full ten minutes until I realized my mistake and had to stand up and walk out in front of everyone."

FRESHMAN DAY

It had been a long year, but finally we got the chance to exhibit our class spirit on May 31, 1985, our Freshman Day, otherwise known as a Fashion Explosion. Chic members of our class modeled Cool 'N Casual, Fancy 'N Formal, and our favorites Black 'N Gold. Entertaining with song and dance, Annette Dixon and Shawan White showed the rest of the school that the Class of '88 possessed unparalleled talent. After the assembly, we reported to class; but our decorations throughout the halls of Western showed our enthusiasm and served as a reminder of "our day".

POCKET MONEY

Living in the '80's requires a lot of money; and for a Western senior, living well requires even more. Our necessities include junk food, latest fashions, and live entertainment. When we abandon our diets for a Quarter Pounder, stretch our budgets for Guess jeans, or spring for tickets to see George Michael, we need cash. Of course, in addition to such everyday expenses, we also need money for once in a lifetime events, such as the Senior Prom. So, as obviously being a senior is far from inexpensive.

THE PERFECT GRAD GIFT

Graduation marks a milestone in life. All of us have worked hard and deserve a reward. A trip to Europe, a new car, or even a full scholarship often come to the minds of graduating seniors. We each have something in mind, when asked what's the perfect gift.

PET PEEVES

Once in a while, something will happen that another person cannot stand. It can be as little as asking for white-out during a test, or something as big as lack of parking spaces for students. These things that irritate us qualify as pet peeves. And even good natured Westernites list a few including: having a unit test just before exams, constantly being served pizza in the cafeteria, finding juniors in the senior lounge, trying to use old soda machines, and waiting in the long lines for the telephone. Although these peeves appear trivial, as Western students, we just have to learn to grin and bear it.

NO LAME EXCUSES HERE

Through the years, all students have contrived a number of unbelievable excuses for late assignments. Westernites take seriously our motto "Only The Best"; so, of course our excuses are also "Only The Best."

"My friend played a joke on me and put invisible ink in my pen." . . . Donnetta Miller

"What homework?" . . . Nina Baze

"I wasn't here yesterday." . . . Sarah Sommer

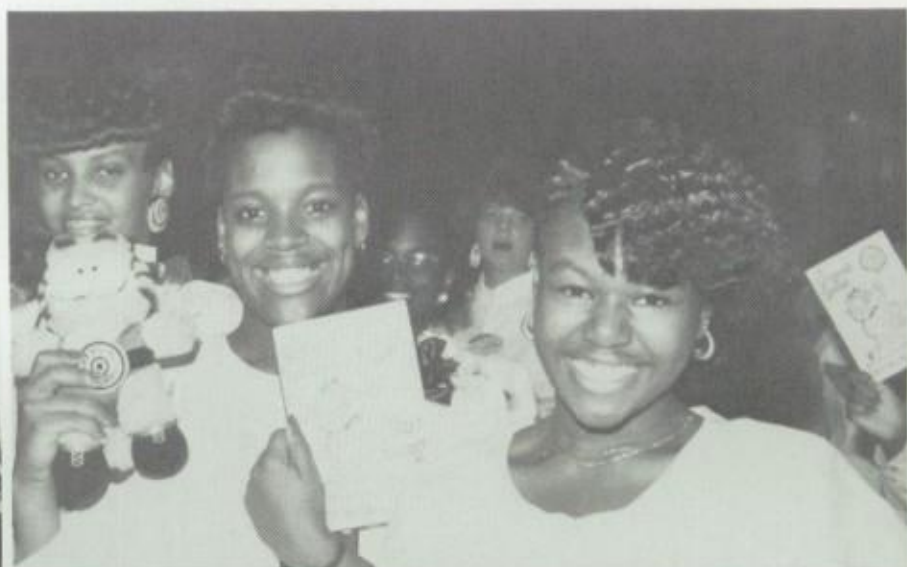

"I did the wrong problems." . . Elizabeth Epps

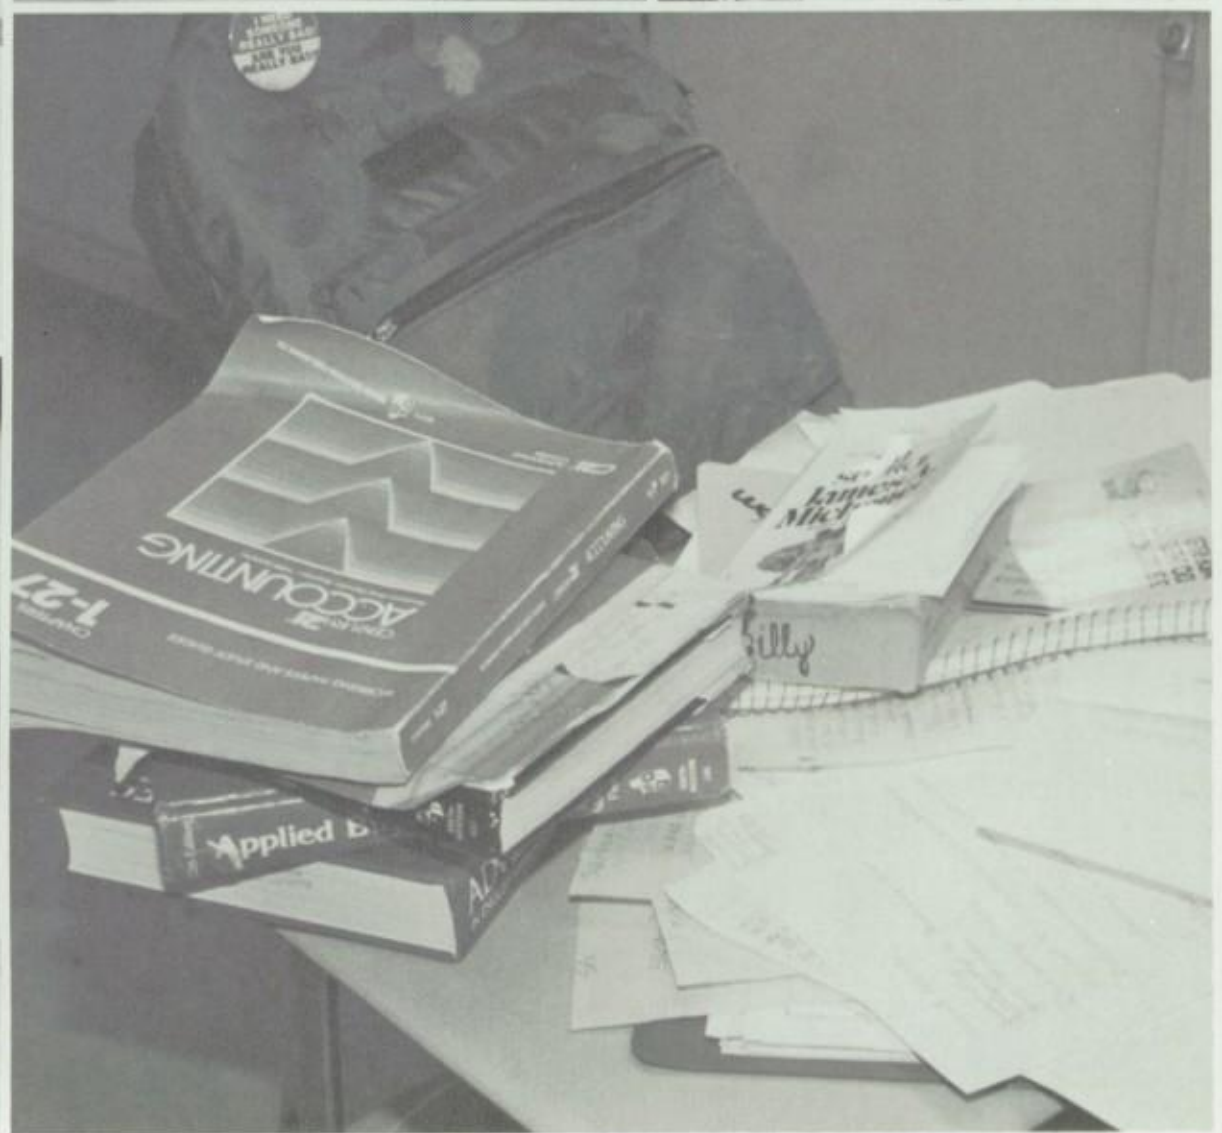

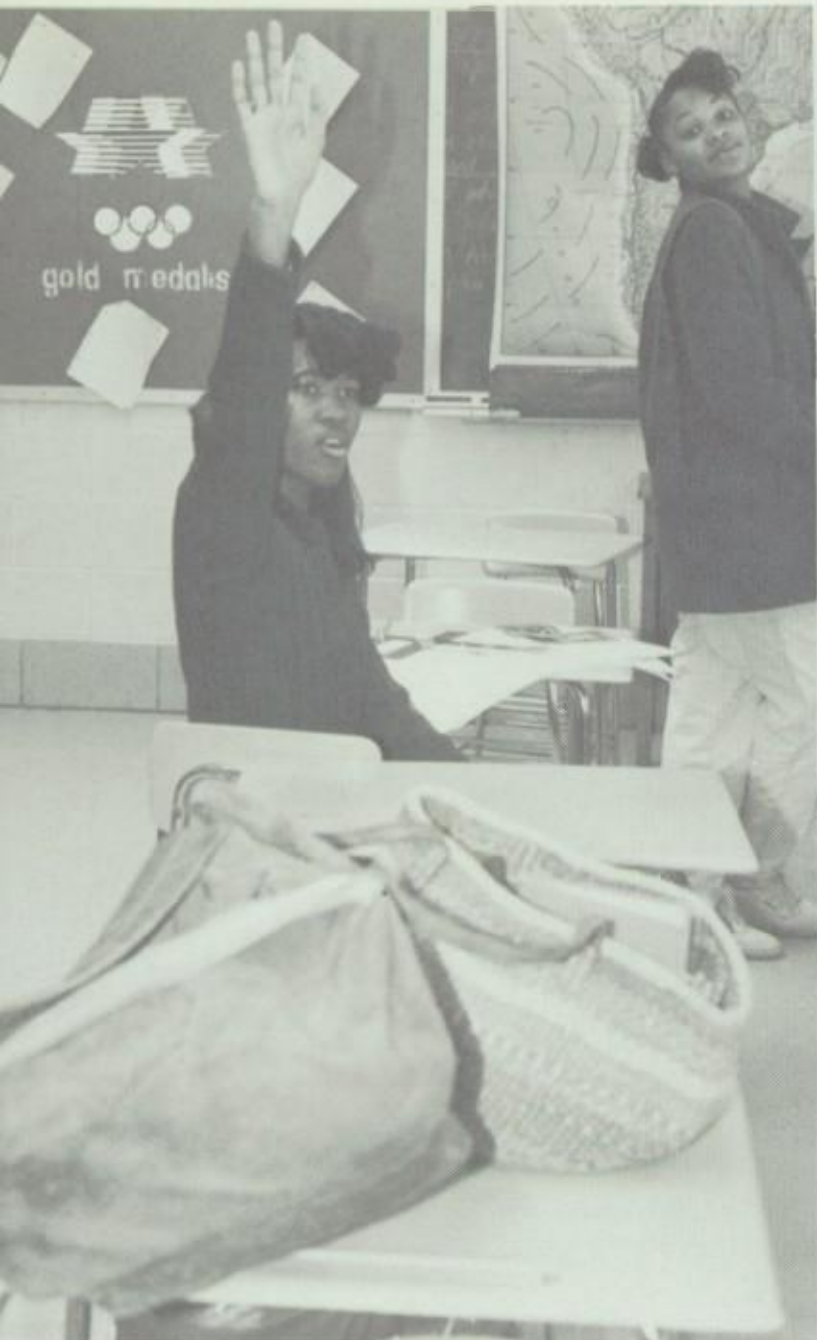

"I thought it was due tomorrow." . . Cherrill Spease

"The electricity went out." . . Tiffany Smith

A SPECIAL MOMENT

With the theme of "We Have Only Just Begun", the Class of '89 danced the night away in Western's ballroom. Elegantly dressed in the latest fashions, excited juniors filled the room with laughter and spirit on this long-awaited night. On this occasion commemorated in scrapbooks, classmates enjoyed the traditional Ring Dance Western style.

CLASS PLEDGE

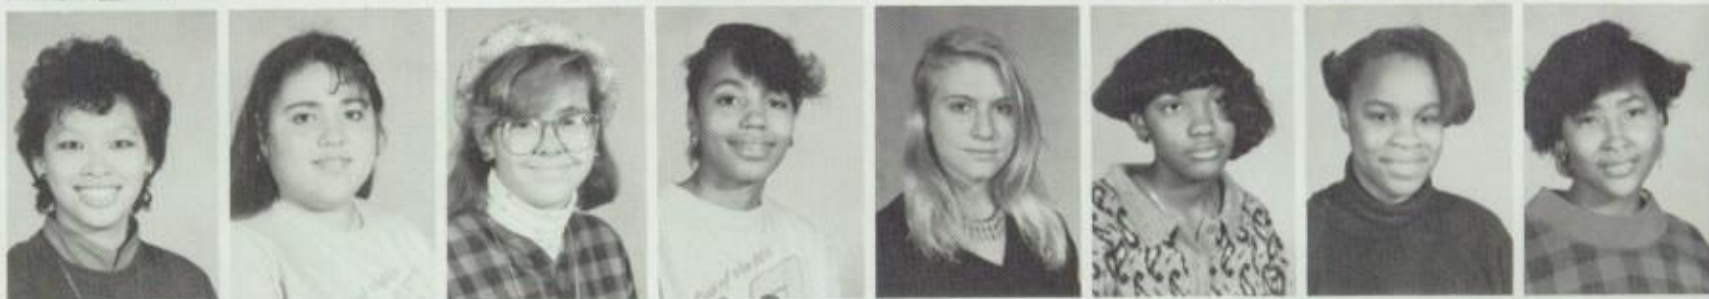

by Lisa Hannah

We, the Class of '89.
Who are the last of the 80's but not behind,
Pledge to strive to achieve the best,
For Western has shown us nothing less.
Our dynamic colors of maroon and gold
Symbolize the standards that we uphold.
though Mickey has united us throughout the days,
A time will come for us to go our separate ways.
But our love for Western shall always last,
For she has given us a touch of class.
And though some day we'll all be gone,
Our memories of sisterhood will linger on.
We're the closest to perfection that one can find.
For we are the Class of '89.

HAPPY JUNIOR DAY

October 23rd marked the day for the school to recognize juniors as upperclasswomen of Western High School. The long-anticipated dream of walking under the arches came true on this memorable day for juniors. The audience watched anxiously as the Class of 1989 filed down the aisle in the auditorium. With the help of four knowledgeable advisors: Mrs. Jacqueline Frierson, Mrs. Jean Von Hagel, Mrs. Rosilind Davis, and Mr. Larry McMillan, the juniors experienced a day full of enjoyment. Highlights of the program included speeches by Western alumnae: Beverly Burns and Lynda P. Robertson, an introduction of the mascot, and the induction of officers. The program ended with the Class of '89 enthusiastically singing the words of the class song written by Angela Smitley and Heidi Foster.

"THE JUNIORS HAVE ONLY JUST BEGUN!"

On November 16th, juniors celebrated a festive week with each day bringing a different activity and a different style. The week began with a day for dressing alike. Then, Tuesday brought lots of athletic clothing and equipment. Wednesday represented pajama and slipper day with a lot of sleepyheads. Thursday signaled a time to honor Mickey, the mascot. Finally, Friday arrived with a new array of fashion. Juniors flashed maroon and gold colors to celebrate the last day of Junior Week and the beginning of new status as upperclasswomen.

SUPER SOPHOMORES

Sophomores, involved in all aspects of school life, serve as an integral part of the Western family. From performing in our plays, to cheering for our tennis team, to singing in the choir, the Class of '90 leads the way. Sophomores appear to be renaissance women, actively participating in every facet of Western life, consistently achieving academically and socially.

SOPHOMORE SWEETHEARTS

Like most Westernites, sophomores do not like to be left out of the social scene, so for every school event, sophomores become completely involved. The Valentine's Day Sweetheart Dance marked another important social occasion at Western. While preparing for the dance, sophomores thought about some special sweethearts including:

DAZZLING DONALD

FASHIONABLE FRESHMEN

The Class of '91 may have been the last to join our student body, but freshmen are by no means last in fashion. While jeans often served as fashion necessities for even the parents of freshmen, it took the eighties to create the look of total denim. From jumpers, to jackets, to jeans, denim reigns supreme. Freshmen also sport other fashions, such as passing trends like Ollie North t-shirts.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

All of us remember our first days at Western. Probably such recollections prove most vivid for freshmen whose first days were not that long ago. These girls recall these first impressions.

Leslie Lipka-

I thought it would be a lot of fun because of Poly boys!

Yolanda Beverly-

Too big! I thought I would never learn my way around such a large school.

FRESHMEN MAKING FRIENDS

Freshmen usually mention fear and insecurity in any discussion of first impressions of Western High. Our school initially seems overwhelming. As the newcomers to the school, the Class of '91 required time to fit in and to belong to the Western family. Soon common experiences enable these newest members of our school to make new friends. Sharing classes, lunch periods, or the same bus make what could otherwise prove an arduous task easy. Every so often friendships form, and freshmen, like their upper-class sisters, monopolize the phone at night sharing times with new confidants.

FANTASTIC FRESHMEN

From the fashionable to the intellectual, to the athletic, freshmen prove to be fantastic. Words such as enthusiastic and considerate also describe our freshmen. All of these attributes show the willingness to participate in various school-wide activities, such as the fall and spring plays, social events such as the Sweetheart Dance and Revel. On Freshman Day, the Class of '91 really shines by showing off unique talents in the special program. After analyzing all of the major contributions made by this class, we recognize that fantastic seems the most appropriate word to describe Western freshmen.

SPORTS

WE COMBINE A MEASURE OF SKILL, OUR
HOURS OF PRACTICE, A DEGREE OF DETERMINATION, AND
OUR SENSE OF FAIR PLAY
TO CREATE ANOTHER
WINNING SEASON IN OUR LIVES.

TENNIS

Tennis, a sport even older than Western High School, remains a favorite of our students. Coached by Mrs. Lawton, the tennis team went undefeated this year, with players such as Elissa Silverman, Heidi Short, Leah Shay and Marnie Fenwick, standing out.

Hours of practice make Marnie Fenwick's serve formidable.

Gracefully, but forcefully, Senior Heidi Short shows off her techniques.

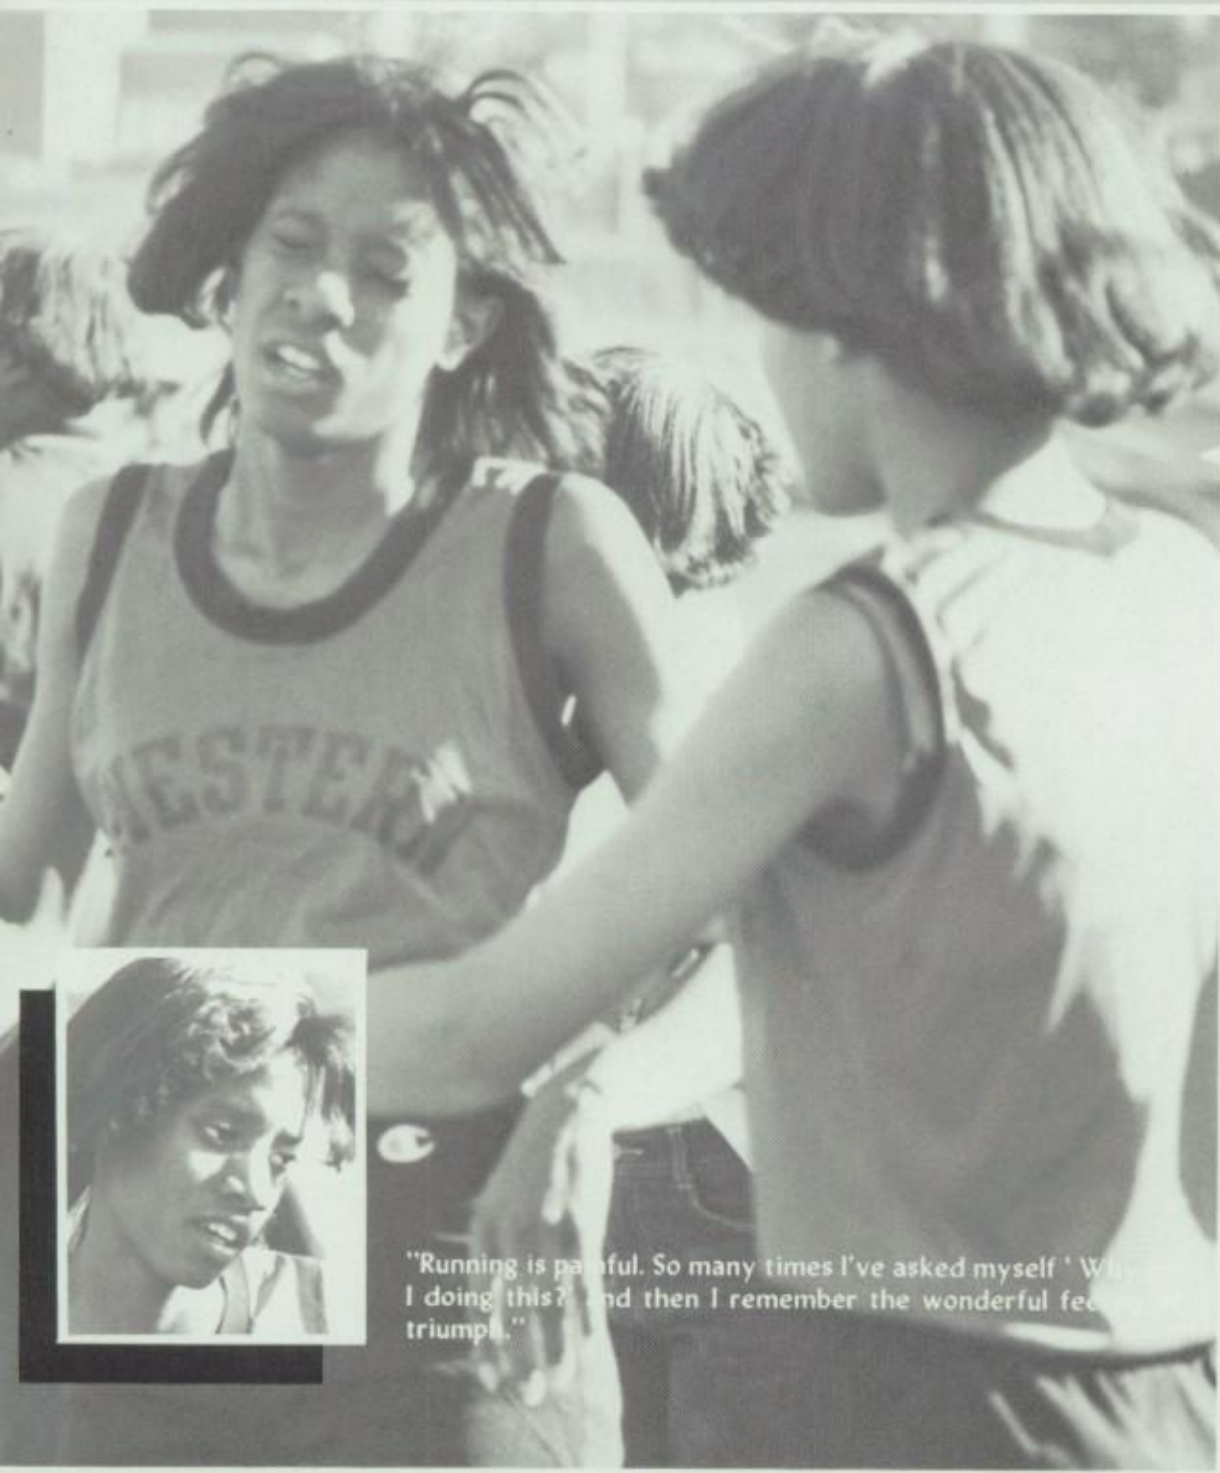

Bottom Row: E. Scott; M. Fenwick; S. Thomas; H. Short Row 2: S. Anderson; A. Shachoy; S. Rawlings; L. Shay; K. Street; Mrs. Diane Lawton

Kisha Street lobs one over the net.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year's cross country team worked very hard to maintain our "only the best" motto. The team went up against some stiff competition from teams such as Carver, Northern, and Poly. The girls ended the season with a 5-0 record, reigning as city champions.

"Running is painful. So many times I've asked myself 'Why am I doing this?' and then I remember the wonderful feeling of triumph."

Janene Green's expression reflects the anguish of the long distance runner.

LaTonya Nixson leads the way, while outstanding opponents Talania Smith and Anika Nkrumah race toward the finish line.

Bottom Row: left to right T. Smith, S. White, S. Berry Row 2 H. Stewart, Y. Clarke, K. Faulker, J. Jones, D. Chambers, A. Rourke, R. Orange Row 3 Ms. Bishop-coach, M. Daniels, A. Nkrumah, L. Nixon J. Green, A. Mayo, O. James

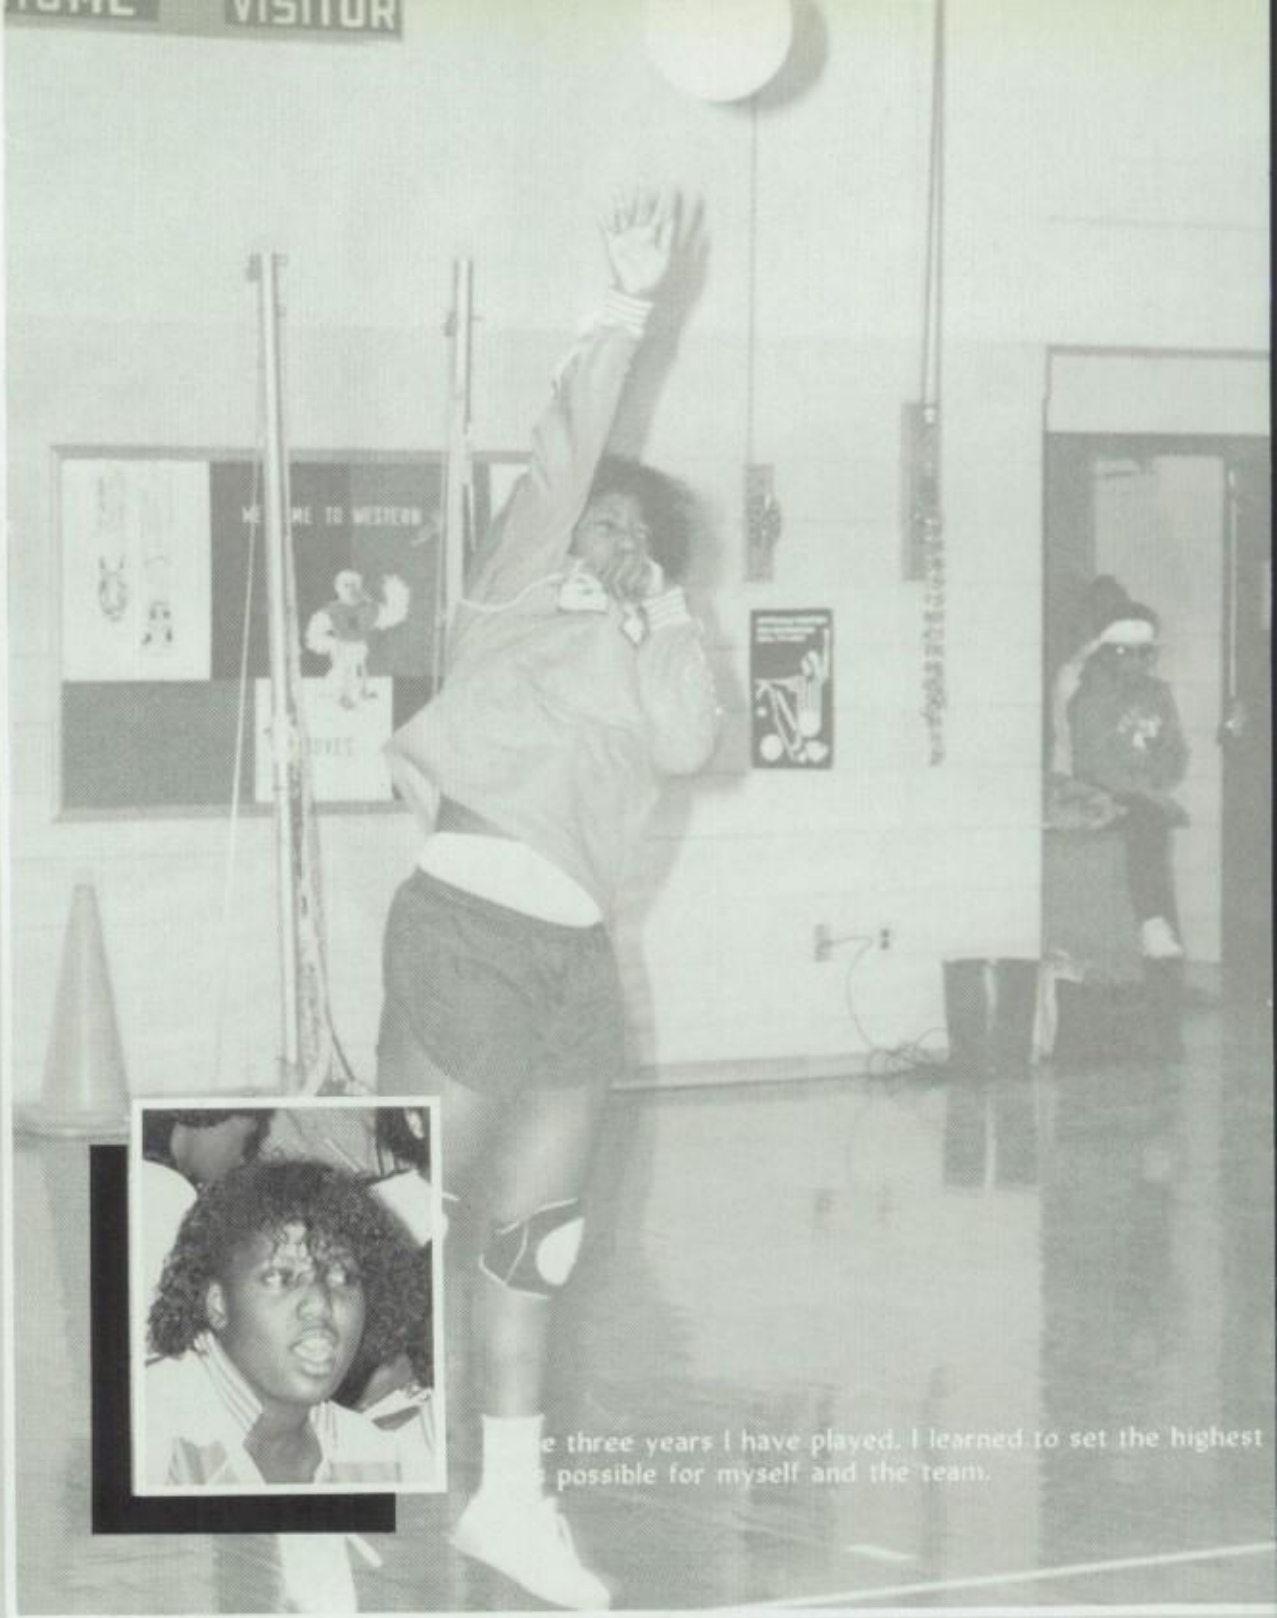

As managers clock her time, Sonja Berry jogs toward finish line.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The 1987-88 year for the varsity volleyball team provided many challenges for all its players. Coached by Shirley Williams, the Doves competed in the play-offs, where they defeated Edmonson. Sensational sets by Erica Herbert and Whitney Pierce, precise passes by Cassandra Burnett, and spectacular spikes by Kiah Stokes, Comalita Haysbert, and Susan Buckson kept this champion team on top.

At halftime, Coach Williams maps out game strategy with her players.

A devastating serve from Whitney Pierce racks up points for the team.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

With a complete new line-up of first year players, the junior varsity proved newcomers to Western's sports family make great contributions for our team. Coached by Mrs. White, the junior varsity finished the 1987-1988 season undefeated. Perfected plays, super sportsmanship, and driving determination helped this team stay ahead of all competitors.

Passing the ball for a perfect play, Kiah Stokes shows her considerable skills while fellow teammates Susan Buckson, Gwyn Dales, and Comilita Haysbert look on.

ATHLETES IN ACTION

Athletes at Western, like the student body in general work hard and play hard. Some of the same ingredients that make us successful in the classroom remain with us on the playing fields. A feeling of dedication, a spirit of determination, and a sense of fair play make both out athletes and our scholars "Only the Best."

Badminton enthusiasts returns the birdy.

During a meet against Poly, this Killer Tomato demonstrates great form.

Determination serves as a motivator for these team members to make it to the finishline before Poly challengers.

Jacinta Brown races home to score another point in the tight game against Southern.

"I joined the swim team, because I knew it would be fun."

Poly met defeat at our hands and amidst our cheers.

SWIM TEAM

Western's swim team finished a spectacular season ranking second in the city finals. Such a good showing indicates everyone worked hard and well. Some highlights included Melissa Engvall's first place in the breast stroke and Katie Gardiner's first place in the backstroke. Obviously the killer tomatoes make a big "splash" at the pool and around the school.

As the captains of the killer tomatoes, Melissa Engvall and Katrina Mattfeld, feel only enthusiasm for their team.

Excitement marks Helvi Kiik's face as she waits to begin her free-style.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Running, passing, and scoring, these three words describe our varsity basketball team in action. This year we added a few new players to our varsity team, Monica Daily who moved up from our J.V. team; Dana Johnson, who in her first year at Western, proudly plays on our varsity team; and Tere Martin who came to us from Towson Catholic. Soon all these girls worked as a team, enabling us to complete another successful season. In fact, with the help of high scorer Comalita Haysbert, our team ended the season with a 18-3 record.

Dunbar's player attempts to pass the ball while two of our players guard her closely.

"To me, sports and education go well together."

Dana Johnson takes a jumpshot against her opponent.

DANCE

Dance team members share spirit, enthusiasm, and a love of dance. All members exert tremendous effort to prove our motto "Only the Best". It comes as no surprise that a goal for the dancers remains winning the coveted Pace award again this year. Each member strives to attain the best in technique and style; consequently these doves soar above competitors.

1. Only with hours of practice can Jennifer Richardson and Hope Williams attain such perfection.

3. "Since I was three year old I've always been intrigued with dance and theatre. I'm honored that God gave me a talent to share with others."

2. Even in rehearsal, Shawan White demonstrates skill and technique.

4. A room full of mirrors provides a perfect setting as Mrs. White's dance team stretches for perfection.

5. A classmate helps Melissa Wood achieve the proper form.

BADMINTON

Birdie, net, volley, all terms a badminton fan would recognize, were put to good use as Western's badminton team continued its winning ways during the 1988 season. Under the leadership of two senior co-captains Cheryl Wilson and Sarah Somer, the team looks forward to the championships in May and June.

"I never pictured myself as the athletic type, but my friend Cheryl Wilson made me try out in the tenth grade and I've been playing ever since."

Shocked senior Sarah Somer shows some sporty style.

SOFTBALL

Once again this year our softball team scored a winning 1987-1988 season. Coached by Mrs. Lawton, the team defeated such competitors as Mervo and Northern. The opening game ranked as one of our most challenging matches. The Doves, with a huge lead in the early innings, almost met with disaster when 1987 Division II Champs, Mervo, tried to close in on our lead. But the Doves prevailed scoring twenty runs and won the game. Such determination, perseverance, and unity enabled the team to prevail throughout the successful season.

With strength and stamina, Joan Bass tries to reach first base.

ACTIVITIES

A YEAR IN THE LIFE OF A WESTERN DOVE INCLUDES A WIDE RANGE OF ACTIVITIES. FROM CLUBS AS VARIED AS BARRISTERS TO NATURAL FOODS, AND EVENTS AS DIVERSE AS FRESHMAN DAY AND GRADUATION, A WESTERNITE'S CALENDAR REMAINS FULL.

ARCHIVES CLUB

The members of the Archives Club serve as the "preservers" of Western High. Club members capture memories in time through collecting yearbooks, pennants, and candid shots for each class at Western High. The memorabilia remains in a capsule for future reference at class reunions to allow the alumnae the opportunity to reflect on the good old school days.

BARRISTERS' CLUB

Advised by Mr. Tyler, the Barristers' Club meets periodically to discuss our legal system. Through the use of mock trials, in-depth debates, visits to courtrooms, and special media cases, our fellow Westernites sharpen legal skills. This year the Barristers invited local prominent lawyers, who lectured on matters at hand and gave helpful suggestions about planning legal careers.

IT'S ACADEMIC CLUB

Who wrote Crime and Punishment ? What general was nicknamed Old Rough and Ready ? Knowing the answers to these questions probably means that you are either a very good student or a member of the It's Academic Club. Members meet regularly to prepare three representatives for the locally televised high school trivia show It's Academic. Western's participants , along with those from two other schools, compete for scholarship money. Mrs. Anilane and Mr. Kessler, their advisors, test the members' knowledge in subjects ranging from literature to math and science, just to name a few.

LIBRARY AIDES

Library aides perform many services including shelving books, writing out the ever popular overdue book notices, and running the circulation desk. Members do aid in other areas such as distributing equipment to teachers, setting up the library for presentations, covering books with clear plastic, and aiding students in finding books. All these tasks may seem tedious to the average person, but library aides enjoy these jobs and do them well.

PEER COUNSELORS

The Peer Counselors, hand-picked responsible seniors, perform various duties for the guidance counselors and secretaries. Answering busy telephones, delivering important messages, and filing dozens of papers, they allow the guidance office to run smoothly. An important part of the guidance office mechanism, peer counselors are indispensable.

PEP SQUAD

The Pep Squad came back louder, stronger, and better in 1988. With new uniforms, sassier cheers, and all the "right" moves, these students display true Western spirit. This vibrant group often can be seen at any of our school's major games, cheering on fellow classmates to victory. The support and dedication of this group have increased spectator attendance and have made each game more enjoyable for all involved.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Photography Club helps girls learn the techniques of taking good pictures. First, the girls study the parts of the camera and how to use them. The group has weekly meetings with opportunities to demonstrate these new skills. Then the club members learn how to develop film, as well as print pictures. By the end of the year, the group hopes to enter some work into contests.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club, an organization dedicated to the community, works with the Red Cross. During the year it sponsors two blood drives in November and March where courageous Western students, who are seventeen years old and weigh at least 110 pounds, donate blood. The Red Cross club also sponsor a school-wide Christmas project when each homeroom collects canned goods and gifts for the needy. Members look forward to a spring trip and the chance to use funds raised in the annual candy drive.

SCHOOL STORE

The School Store opens bright and early each morning to sell stationery goods to the student body. Last minute purchases of bookreport covers, pens, folders-even French and Spanish dictionaries can rescue procrastinators guilty of waiting until the very last second to complete an assignment. Under the careful supervision of Mrs. Donna Magin, the School Store runs effectively and efficiently each year. Mrs. Magin even goes as far as to selling school supplies during her class periods to better serve her students.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The Shakespeare Club, which meets as a class, consists of students who enjoy reading and learning about the life and works of William Shakespeare. Sonnets, histories, and comedies, read in various units, make up the class's curriculum. Periodically, each student completes a project (either an essay, research paper or dramatization) on one of his many works. The group also plans to take a trip to New York to enjoy a theatrical production of one of Shakespeare's play.

SOCIAL AND POLITICAL CLUB

The Social and Political Awareness Club, just recently revived after several years of non-existence, now thrives at Western. Topics on the group's agenda include nuclear disarmament, apartheid and a proposed plan to move Western from its Falls Road location. The organization also has speakers whose talks range from militarism and youth to the fears surrounding AIDS. This club strives to make students aware of issues which affect each of us.

SPANISH CLUB

Buenas dias, Como estas? These expressions become second nature to the members of the Spanish Club. The club meets every two weeks to gain increased familiarity with the Spanish culture. Mrs. Hare, the faculty advisor helps in the study and teaches the members how to prepare Spanish foods such as tacos, chilli con carne, paella, and other foods. The Spanish Club booth at Revel features many of these dishes.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

As the name implies, the Student Government Association serves as a ruling body for the school. Composed of representatives from each homeroom, the S.G.A. under the guidance of Mr. Norwood serves as a liason between students and administrators. At Western, students have a voice in decision-making, and that voice comes in the form of the S.G.A.

THE SUPER MUDD CLUB

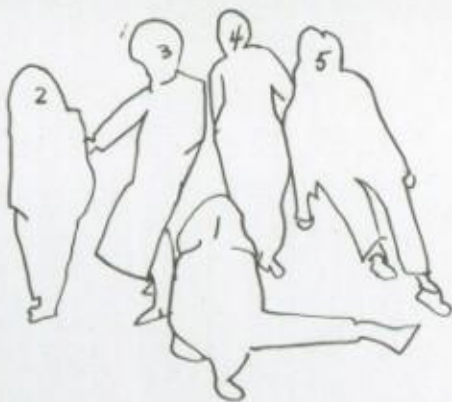

The Super Mudd Club, sponsored by Mr. David Mack, gives Western's students the chance to work with clay. The works of the students express the diversity and creativity of each student. Students enjoy expressing outrageous and zanny ideas. In addition to making ordinary pots and bowls, creative students fashion such exotic items as piggy banks, teachers' statues, and ceramic trays of food. Club member Kelly Mitchell states, "I joined the club because I enjoy working with clay."

THESPIAN SOCIETY

Western's branch of the Thespian Society, an out-going and talented group, work in conjunction with the Theatre Department and Drama Club. The notable achievements of members in the theatre arts allow for induction in the International Thespian Society. After performing in Western productions, some members become quite adept and envision additional dramatic roles in later years.

THE SOMETIMES

The Sometimes, our literary magazine, displays the various talents of Westernites. This variety-packed magazine publishes students' writings and drawings. Short stories, poems, essays, and reviews are made available to Westernites for the price of $1.00. Industrious staff members work hard all year round to create a unique magazine that displays Westernites' literary skills.

WALKING CLUB

Girls in the Walking Club enjoy the pleasure of exercising without heavy workouts. The group meets in the morning and takes a rigorous walk around the Western High vicinity. Some members hope to lose a few pounds while others strive to keep fit. After the brisk walks, club sponsor Mrs. White leads members in a light workout.

WESTWARD HO! BUSINESS

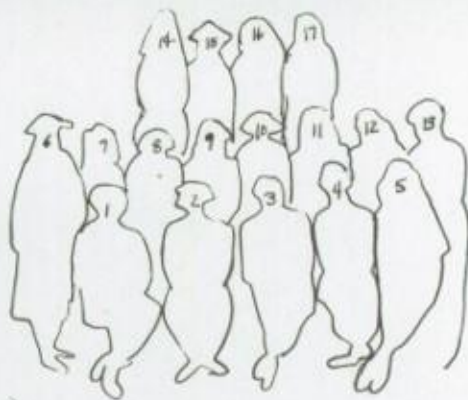

The Westward Ho! business staff handles the financial aspect of the yearbook. Each year the members of the Westward Ho! business staff sell ads for the yearbook in hope of keeping the expense of the yearbook as low as possible. In addition to selling ads, members kick-off an annual candy drive. During the month of November, members also produce and direct an assembly of non-stop commercials to entice Westernites to purchase the book which captures memories in time.

WESTWARD HO! LITERARY STAFF

Endless pecking at typewriters, revisions of less than perfect copy, approvals of candids and portraits and mad rushes to meet all deadlines. What is it? You guess it - the Westward Ho! literary staff at work. These dedicated members, counselled by Mrs. Barr, worked all year to produce a quality yearbook. Thanks to this competent staff— The Class of 1988 will leave an impressive example for all future Doves to follow.

SWEETHEART DANCE

The month of February brings love into the hearts and minds of Westernites. Red and white decorations provide a perfect setting as Cupid hits the hearts of Westernites in full force. Westernites proved mother nature can not put a damper on our spirits. On February 12th, girls braved the cold weather and icy roads to dance and to enjoy a romantic evening with sweethearts. Students jammed to the music provided by a popular club and thoroughly enjoyed the mood of the evening.

1. Some working, others watching, students prepare for the big event.

2. Kim Garland and Shannon Young and dates enjoy the evening and enjoy posing for our photographer.

3. Escorts sit this one out and Westernites "take the dance floor".

4. Smiling couples take pleasure in the evening.

SPRING MUSICAL

Beautiful medieval costumes, a mystical castle setting and vibrant singing and choreography combined to make Western's spring musical, Once Upon a Mattress, a success. The cast included an interesting array of characters such as King Sextimus, (Mr. Gerhard), (Queen Agravain (Michaela Moran), Princess Winnifred (Hallie Brown), Prince Dauntless (Michael Bruce), a jester, a minstrel, and dozens of ladies in waiting, who sang and danced their way through Prince Dauntless's courtship. Our version of the musical, based on the fairy tale The Princess and the Pea, featured faculty members, as well as the romantic finale.

1. Playing the lead role, Hallie Brown vividly expresses her character's moods.
2. A veteran actress on Western's stage, Michaela Moran portrays a fierce Queen Agravain.
3. Our flamboyant social studies teacher Mr. Gerhard relishes his role as King.
4. Members of the chorus stand in attendance.
5. Like any real princess, Winnifred knows how to make an entrance.

JR. PROM - CLASS OF '89

On May 7, the Class of '89 attended a formal dance, the long awaited Junior Prom.

Decorated in the class colors of maroon and gold, Western's Ballroom sparked a feeling of pride in the hearts of the junior Westernites this evening.

Swaying to the tunes of Davis DJ's, the dancers often thought of the theme song "If Only for One Night," and what a night it was.

1. Couples relaxing between dances enjoy refreshments.
2. Like the class he represents, Mickey Mouse dresses to impress.
3. Westernites display fashion at its best.
4. The fountain and garden provided a romantic setting for juniors and dates.
5. Lisa Welch and her escort smile brightly for our camera.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

Once again, the athletes, artists, and musicians of Western High school attended the annual Awards Assembly for spring of 1988.

Freshman, sophomores, juniors and seniors alike received recognition for efforts in making Western's extracurricular organizations "Only the Best."

During the assembly, Mrs. White's dance major class performed an aerobic exhibition that delighted the audience, and afterwards Jessica LaCosta and Cherise Bullock performed solos. Appropriately enough, the assembly lasted through most of the morning as Western's list of award winners seemed almost endless.

1. Dance coach Mrs. White presents her daughter Shawan with a prestigious dance award.
2. Mrs. Wighton congratulates freshman, Eve Othoff on her track and field accomplishments.
3. Jessica LaCosta receives a music award from Mrs. McCallum.

REVEL

Every year our Western family gathers together to share a day of unity; we call this special day Revel. The weather cooperated, so we could celebrate outside in the quad. Soon multicolored banners featuring our theme, "Western is as classy as . . ." hung from classroom windows providing a suitable background for this fun-filled occasion. Hundreds of students strolled through the quad, stopping periodically to sample food and games. This year we added a few new booths; we added a hair booth and tie-dyed tee shirts. By 3:00 the appearance of the quad showed that the majority of the people enjoyed themselves. The next day the freshmen class carried out the tradition of cleaning the quad.

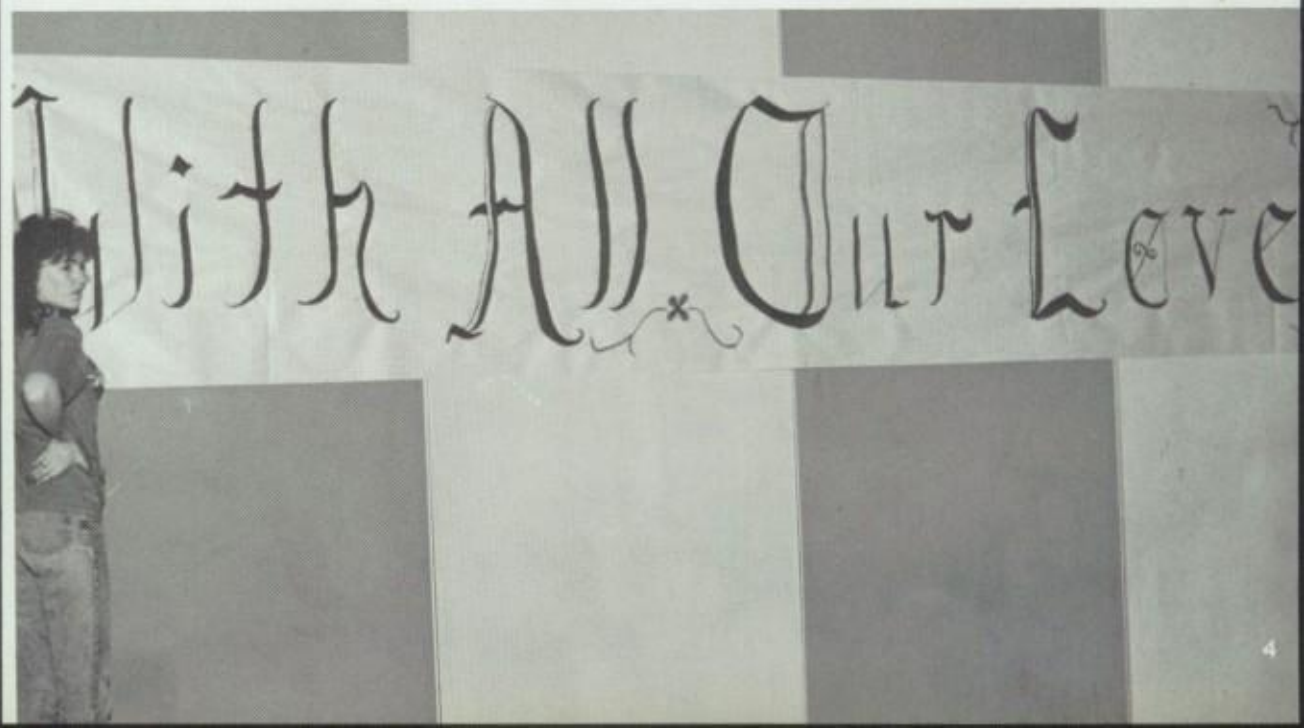

- 1 Students line up for a glimpse into the future from Heidi Foster's Tarot cards.
- 2 Class mascots Snoopy and Mickey Mouse appeared frequently on class banners.
- 3 Shelly Williams, a potential customer, searches for the perfect tie-dye shirt.
- 4 Nicole Dorsey's face-painting helped Westernites get into the spirit of the day.

1 Cotton candy appears to be messy, but a big seller at Revel '88.
 2 Westernites enjoy the music and dance at Revel.
 3 The Western Band rocks and pops to the "in" music of today.
 4 The warm May day made the fruit shake stand a huge success.

PARENT- DAUGHTER TEA

On Sunday, April 25, seniors and parents gathered together for another momentous event, whose theme "With All Our Love" seemed appropriate indeed. The first hour featured a talent show with performing seniors and even a couple of mother-daughter duos. Gym teacher, Mrs. Sevalyn White, and her daughter presented a modern dance; and former French teacher, Mrs. Delores Cassell, and her daughter sang an original number. After entertainment on a grand scale, guests enjoyed punch and cookies and posed for photographers. Thus ended another scrap-book occasion.

1. Senior Shawan White and her mother performed at the Parent-daughter Tea talent show.
2. "Für Elise," as played by Cheryl Wilson, proved a familiar tune for most of us.
3. Another popular mother-daughter act featured Cherice Bullock and her mother.
4. Setting-up for the tea took hours from our already busy schedules.
5. Trays of pastries tempt most of our guests.

SENIOR BANQUET

The Senior Banquet, held this year at the Pikesville Hilton, was another scrapbook occasion for Westernites. It gave us a chance to leave our jeans at home and don dresses for the evening. It also gave us an opportunity to abandon the cafeteria in favor of the banquet hall. In addition to these assets, the Senior Banquet gave us another opportunity to enjoy good company and good fun. It marked one of our last times together.

1. A paint brush award seems appropriate for the most artistic senior, Hilary Puhl.
2. A vocal selection from Mahogany by Francine Mims captivated the audience.
3. Tyra Joyner, Thomasina Kinder, and Sarah Sommer's skit as teachers on hall patrol drew much laughter from the crowd.
4. Some of the first seniors to arrive pose for our camera while waiting for friends and food to arrive.
5. Mr. Norwood opens a gift presented by his dinner partners.

FUNNY HOW TIME FLIES

Tears and cheers abounded at our Senior Farewell. The theme 'Funny How Time Flies' had never seemed more appropriate, and this theme coupled with readings of The Halls of Ivy helped us all to reminisce about the last four years. Other highlights of the program included a short talk from Western alumnae and Sunpaper scholarship winner Deborah Greene, presentations of gifts and awards, and a slide show. The program closed with our singing "Dear Western" for almost the last time and our marching out of the auditorium for the last time.

1. Seniors stand to sing the class song for the last time at Farewell.
2. For this momentous occasion, former Westernite Deborah Greene offered her congratulations to the Class of '88
3. Seniors usually received a hug, as well as an award, as Frances Jolley distributed awards and scholarships.
4. The "Halls of Ivy" helped seniors to recall the last four years at Western.
5. Traci Johnson, senior class president, presented the class banner to Mrs. Sandra Wighton.

1. June Cho says her last goodbyes to our foreign exchange student from Brazil.
2. Keeping in her family tradition, Joannah O'Hatnick, like her mother and aunt before her, receives the cup of scholastic achievement.
3. The seniors' Farewell assembly bring tears of sorrow as we realize our days at Western end.
4. For Sarah Sommer, our class valedictorian, the day brings tears at the thoughts of leaving.
5. Seniors Cheryl Wilson and Leah Shay draw closer together recognizing that this is the last of many events together.
6. Shakers, mascots, and cheers signal the beginning of farewell.

SENIOR PROM

May 31, 1988, a warm spring night, seemed the perfect evening for our Senior Prom. We chose Hunt Valley as the scene and "Moments and Memories" as the theme. Glamorous couples, some even chauffeured in limosines, arrived at the stroke of eight to begin an event of a lifetime. We danced to the music, consumed the food, chatted with friends, and revelled in the evening. All too soon this stage of our festivities ended at one a.m., but most of us went on to parties, restaurants, brunches that did not end until the early hours of the following day. Exhausted but elated members of the Class of '88 completed another chapter in life.

1. Traditionally couples pose for pictures and Tammy Brown and her date take their turn. 2. Ronda Young and her date enjoy the music and the moment. 3. Hunt Valley proved a romantic setting for our Senior Prom. 4. Barbara Baclawski and her escort made an elegant couple.

1. Everyone, seniors and their dates, merrily danced to the up-beat music. 2. The smiles on every face was just one indication of the fun had by all. 3. Cheryl Wilson cautiously steps out of a chauffeured limosine to begin a special night of her life.

GRADUATION

Saturday, June 4, 1988 had been marked on calendars of all Western Seniors for months. This rather cool day brought our long-awaited graduation. For weeks and even months, we planned for this. Every detail-from important considerations such as our gowns and our guest lists to somewhat less significant concerns such as our hair styles or our graduation parties - received our careful attention. All of our efforts paid off. The day and the event proved flawless for our families, our friends, and ourselves (the newest graduates of Western High School).

1. Mrs. Wighton and other special guests stand to acknowledge the soon-to-be-graduates.
2. Western graduates listen intently to each presentation and address from guest speakers.
3. The graduating class stand before a crowd of family and friends.
4. While waiting for the decision as to whether the weather would permit graduation outside, Kim Schrader and Lisa Tolley pose for a picture.

1. Excited seniors walk nervously to their seats.
2. Sarah Sommer, valedictorian, receives one of many awards and scholarships for her achievements.
3. Donnetta Miller receives her diploma from our assistant principal and class advisor, Mr. Grant.
4. Congressman, Mfume issues a scholarship to one of Western's elite ladies.
5. Paula Moore waits patiently for the line to begin moving forward.
6. Seniors receive their diplomas at last.

Love,
Your Aunt,

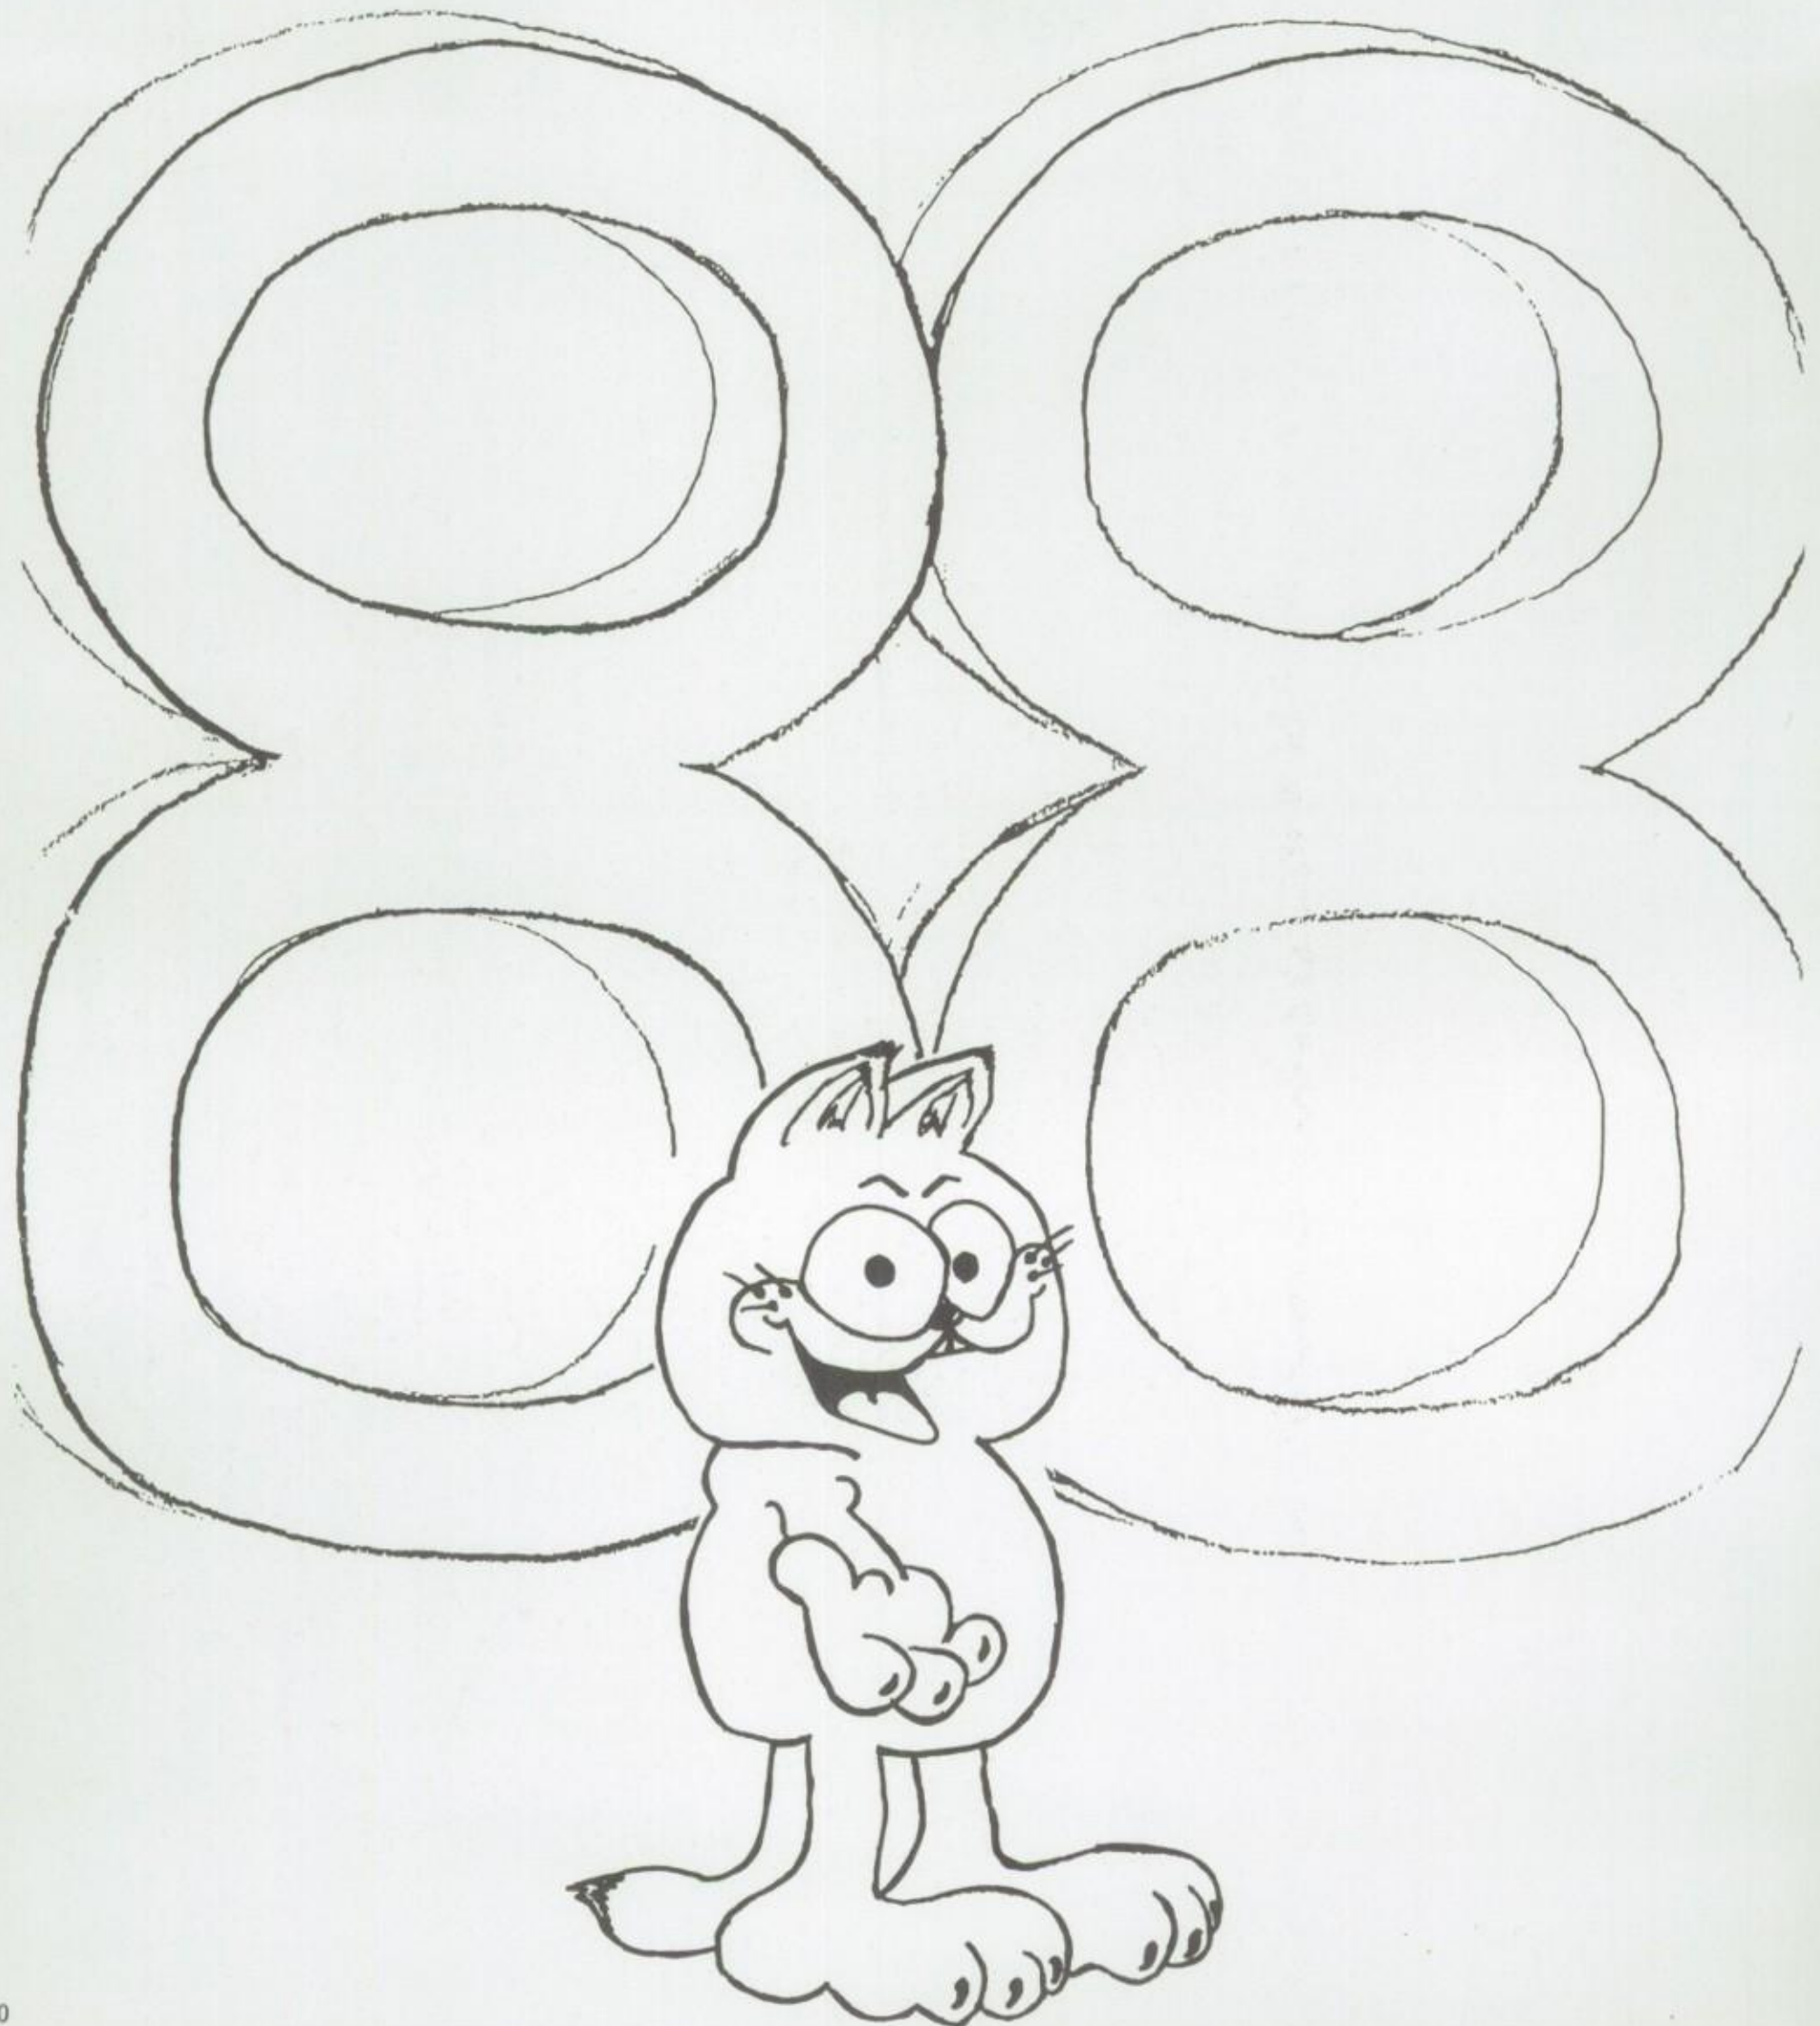

Mrs. Lorraine P. Hughes

Well, kid, you made it! It seems as though it was just yesterday we watched you take your first steps. Although you were unsure as to whether or not you would be successful, the attempt was made because of our constant support and encouragement. We are again witnessing your first steps not merely walking, but walking into adulthood.
Know that you will be as successful as you want to be, and as always, we will be there for your support.
Thanks for making us the proudest parents in the world.

Creative vision demands a classic education

At the Maryland Institute College of Art, our students receive a traditional fine arts and liberal arts education – a classic combination that enhances creative professional growth.

Since 1826 we have provided visual art students with the encouragement and support they need to fully develop their abilities and to plan their careers.

Our four-year programs offer BFA degrees in drawing, painting, printmaking, general fine arts, art teacher education, photography, graphic design/illustration, interior design, ceramics, sculpture, and crafts (wood, metal and fiber). These disciplines are supplemented by strong academic liberal art classes in literature, history and science. We offer exchange programs with Baltimore's most prestigious universities and art centers, such as Goucher College, Johns Hopkins University and Peabody Institute, as well as with European universities.

Baltimore is ideally situated in one of America's richest cultural centers. Along with Washington, D.C. and other neighboring cities, it offers a wealth of heritage, ethnic history and academic resources.

IN MEMORIUM

Cherrise C. Spears

1970 — 1985

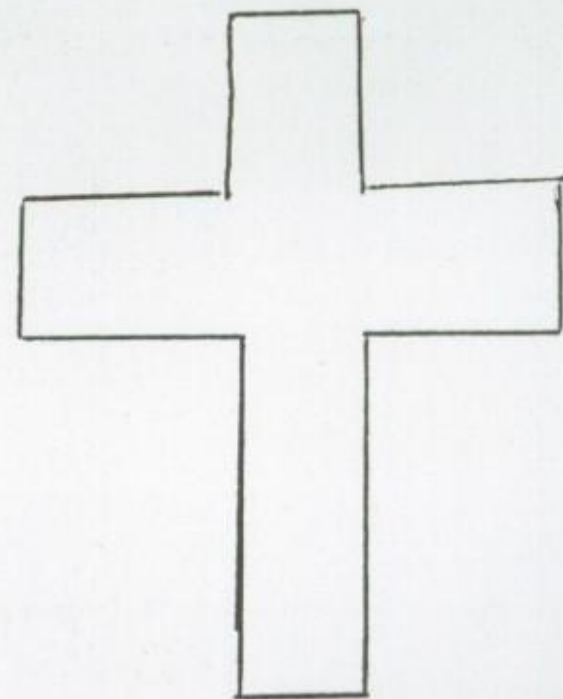

You slipped out from among us, like a rainbow in the sky.
And though we knew the will of God, we had to wonder why.
Our memories, we all hold dear, our love will never cease.
And though we're sad, we know that now you have eternal peace.

To Our Big Sisters

We love you more than
words can say,
But we'll try to write some anyway.

You helped us out when no
one would,

And gave us hope when nothing could.

You reached inside and brightened
our day,

though there were obstacles in your way.

So we'll shed a few tears

and so will our duck

We'll cry cause we'll miss you,

And wish for your luck.
